

Big Crowds Greeting Eisenhower On Tour Cheer GOP Leaders

By JACK BELL

Aboard Eisenhower Special (P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's crowd-packed invasion of the Midwest evoked cheers today from his campaign managers.

The Republican nominee carried into possibly hostile territory in Minnesota his serious-minded bid for the presidency.

Sincerity Makes Hit

Arthur Summerfield, Republican national chairman, told this reporter Eisenhower's backers are "entirely satisfied" with the impression the general made on about a quarter of a million persons who turned out to see and hear him in Illinois and Indiana yesterday.

Summerfield said Eisenhower will continue to deprecate the levity with which his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, has described Republican reaction to many of the issues of the day.

"Gen. Eisenhower's own sincerity and his recognition of the seriousness of the situation existing today contrasts sharply with his opponent's wisecracks and I believe that fact is impressing the people," Summerfield said.

Audiences Get Larger

Eisenhower will desert his campaign train temporarily this afternoon to fly to New York, where he will speak before the American Federation of Labor Convention tomorrow. He will pick up his train again tomorrow night in Moline, Ill.

Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas, one of the general's chief advisers, described as "absolutely perfect" Eisenhower's 13 speeches and their reception by dominantly Republican audiences in Indiana and in the Chicago vicinity of Illinois yesterday.

The general capped his day's campaigning with a 125-mile automobile trip, starting from the South Side of Chicago and taking in Joliet, Wheaton, Aurora and Ottawa, Ill.

He got friendly, cheering crowds in this territory, part of which is border-line between Democratic and Republican control, that were larger than this correspondent has seen for any presidential candidate in a comparable area.

Mountain And Western States Lean To G. O. P.

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of five stories on the political situation as of now, as seen by newspaper editors and political writers in all 48 states).

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

NEW YORK (P)—The Mountain and Western states, almost as solidly Democratic as the South in presidential elections over the last 20 years, now are regarded by editors and correspondents as leaning Republican but still a 1952 toss-up.

An Associated Press survey, based upon individual county estimates by editors and political writers in each state, indicates their combined opinion is that only one of the 11 states could be considered reasonably safe for the Democrats if the election were held at this time. The Democrats captured 10 of the 11 in 1948.

California For Ike

If present trends hold good through Nov. 4—and many of the states still must be kept on the "doubtful list"—the newspaper men say the 79 electoral votes of the Mountain and Western states should line up this way behind the presidential nominees:

For Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower: California 32, Oregon 6, Washington 9, Idaho 4, Utah 4, New Mexico 4, Montana 4, Nevada 3, Wyoming 3. Total 69.

For Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson: Arizona 4.

Undecided: Colorado 6. AP surveys of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware, released yesterday, indicate that editors and political writers hold a composite belief that if the people were voting today the 105 electoral ballots of those five states would go to Eisenhower by a narrow margin.

Political Winds Shifting

The Eastern votes, plus 69 from the West, would give the GOP

Taft-Hartley Act Menace To Labor, Tobin Tells AFL

NEW YORK (P)—Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin told the American Federation of Labor today that the Taft-Hartley Law means slow death for the labor movement.

The law, he said in a prepared address at the AFL's 71st annual convention, has slowed organized labor's membership gains tremendously and has become "a matter of life or death for the American labor movement."

Three Major Talks

His speech was one of three major addresses scheduled during the day. The other two speakers also were administration officials.

Mutual Security Administrator Averell Harriman attacked Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower sharply for "the bold implication that he and the other leaders of his party have been so far-sighted that they never had any illusions about Soviet aggression."

Harriman added, in his prepared address:

"In November, 1945, Gen. Eisenhower testified before a committee of the Congress. He was asked what he thought about Russia as a potential aggressor and he answered, 'Russia has not the slightest thing to gain by a struggle with the United States. There is no one thing, I believe, that guides the policy of Russia more today than to keep friendship with the United States.'"

Wage Boost Pushed

Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing, like Tobin, called for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law, and he cited what he viewed as gains under Democratic administrations.

He also suggested a boost in the 75-cent-an-hour minimum wage set by federal law.

Mother Accused Of Selling Baby

LONG BEACH, Calif. (P)—A young mother was in jail today while police investigated a report that she sold her baby girl.

Mrs. Edna E. Schon, 20, the mother; Mrs. Elizabeth G. Brittain, 35, the recipient of the child, and Mrs. Kathryn A. Lincoln, 37, who told police she was only a go-between, were all booked for investigation of infringement of personal liberty, a felony.

The police report said Mrs. Lincoln got $450 from Mrs. Brittain, kept $50 and gave $400 to Mrs. Schon.

Mrs. Schon, declaring "I wouldn't sell Linda Kay for a million dollars," said she needed money badly and understood the transaction would lead to adoption of the baby. The case came to light, in fact, when she appeared at the juvenile bureau to inquire about adoption proceedings. After the three women were arrested yesterday the baby was placed in a county institution.

Police said Mrs. Schon's estranged husband, Paul, 24, is in Navy service.

Movie Hero Hurt

HOLLYWOOD (P)—Actor Glenn Ford came a cropper while chasing the villain in a scene for a Western movie yesterday.

His horse balked and threw him. He crashed into a tree. He was hospitalized with three broken ribs, severe cuts and possible internal injuries.

LeMay In Tokyo

Credit Curbs Lifted For Buying New Home

By FRANK O'BRIEN

WASHINGTON (P)—Starting now you are free to buy a new house on whatever terms you can arrange, without any government supervision or regulation.

The Federal Reserve Board cut home buyers and purchasers of commercial property loose yesterday when it suspended Regulation X. That is the government order that since October, 1950, had set official limits on the amount of credit lenders could give in home and commercial property sales.

Regulation X applied only to new buildings.

Construction Falls Off

Simultaneously the Housing and Home Finance Agency (HHFA) announced it was loosening its regulations governing credit in home sales where government loans or guarantees are a part of the transaction.

These moves followed notice by the Bureau of Labor Statistics to the Federal Reserve Board and the HHFA yesterday that housing construction during June, July and August indicated that not more than 1,200,000 units would be started during the year.

Under amendments to the 1952 Defense Production Act, Regulation X had to be lifted if housing starts during three consecutive months, adjusted on a seasonal basis, pointed to fewer than 1,200,000 new homes or apartments in a year's building.

Foley Not Happy

The Federal Reserve Board suspended Regulation X without comment.

But Housing Administrator Raymond M. Foley made it clear in a statement that he was not happy to open the credit dikes on government-backed housing. He suggested that Regulation X might have to be reimposed later on.

In the amendments which provided for suspension of Regulation X, Congress also provided that if during any three months housing starts went above 1,200,000 on an annual basis the government could put the regulation back into force. This, however, is not mandatory.

Regulation X, which went out last midnight, required a down payment of at least 5 per cent on houses selling for $7,000 or less. It imposed ever-higher down payment requirements as the sale price of the house went up, reaching 40 per cent on houses selling for $25,000 or more.

In commercial building, Regulation X imposed a 50 per cent down payment requirement no matter what the cost of the structure.

Clean Radio-TV Shows Promised

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (P)—Radio-television industry spokesmen told a congressional committee today that what they are trying to teach is a clean living and good morals, rather than "hoochy kootchy" and liquor drinking.

Leaders in the radio-TV field were called before a House interstate subcommittee investigating the content of programs now on the air waves.

The inquiry was ordered by the House after some Congress members had complained that too much objectionable matter was being broadcast and telecast, with emphasis on the art of pouring liquor and on "hoochy kootchy."

To keep the record in balance, the committee called hearings for today and tomorrow to obtain the comments of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, American Broadcasting Co., Mutual Broadcasting System and Dumont Television Network.

Ching Quits Sept. 30 As Head Of Federal Mediation Service

WASHINGTON (P)—Cyrus S. Ching is resigning as director of the Federal Mediation Service, effective Sept. 30. He will be succeeded by David L. Cole, 50, a Patterson, N.J., lawyer.

President Truman announced the change yesterday in releasing a "Dear Cy" letter accepting Ching's resignation. Ching, 76, has been director of the mediation and conciliation service since 1947. He told the President "the time has come when I must of necessity give some consideration and attention to my personal affairs."

Cole has served on special federal boards dealing with union-management relations on several occasions. He is a former chairman of the New Jersey State Board of Mediation.

Truman also announced the appointment of Charles C. Killingsworth of Michigan to be a public member and vice chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board.

Big Stockpiles Offset Danger Of Fuel Pinch

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (P)—John L. Lewis is appearing today to be shaping up an early strike of about 300,000 Eastern soft coal miners in a divide-and-conquer strategy against coal producers.

But the United Mine Workers chief said a walkout isn't likely to produce a national emergency among coal users.

Four Days To Go

Breaking his silence on a month of private negotiations, Lewis sternly reported to newsmen yesterday he has reached a "most disturbing" impasse with Northern soft coal operators, with only four more days to go before their present contract expires Saturday.

Similarly, Lewis said, "no conclusions" have been reached in frequent talks with Southern soft coal producers, whose contract expires Sept. 30.

Lewis plainly implied both groups of mines would be shut down as their contracts run out. Traditionally, the miners don't work without a contract.

Antracite Pact Drafted

Together, the two groups turn out about 70 per cent of the nation's coal—or seven million tons a week. About 200,000 miners work in the Northern group, 100,000 in the Southern.

Contrasting with this grim picture the mine chief stressed that Western and Midwestern soft coal mines which are not members of

Morse Differs With Eisenhower

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Wayne Morse began drafting a speech today for the American Federation of Labor National Convention which may point up a major difference between him and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Oregon Republican told newsmen he would not complete the text of his address until after he read Eisenhower's speech before the AFL Convention in New York tomorrow. Morse's talk is set for Thursday.

Morse, who describes himself as a constitutional liberal and frequently is in the opposite camp from many of his Republican Senate colleagues, was an early booster of Eisenhower for the GOP presidential nomination.

But he has announced he is highly dissatisfied with the turn the general's campaign has taken recently, particularly with the hearty reception given to Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Morse says that as matters now stand he will vote for Eisenhower and believes the GOP nominee will win the election, but that he plans no active campaign for him.

Two Safes Stolen

DETROIT (P)—Alexander Fox, hardware and furniture store owner, was robbed of two safes, a pistol, a shotgun and two rifles by thieves who broke into his store.

One safe with $1,000 in it, was found Monday in a field. The thieves couldn't open it. But they beat it up so badly that Fox can't enter it.

Allied Pilots Bag 45 Russian Migs

By MILO FARNETI

SEOUL, Korea (P)—The U. S. Fifth Air Force said Allied pilots set a new Korean War record for Communist planes destroyed in one month when they shot down three MIGs over North Korea and got belated confirmation of a fourth.

That raised the September total to 45 MIGs, with almost half the month left. Last April 44 Red planes were destroyed, including 41 MIGs and three propeller-driven warplanes caught on the ground.

In addition to the three MIGs destroyed one was damaged today. The Fifth Air Force also confirmed the kill of a MIG Sept. 4. Thirty-six Red planes have been damaged and three probably destroyed this month.

Awaiting confirmation are pilot reports of four MIGs destroyed, one probably destroyed and five damaged.

Kremlin Thinks Germany Will Remain Divided

By BRACK CURRY

BONN, Germany (P)—The Kremlin appears to regard the division of Germany as permanent, according to leading American officials here, and now is finishing the transformation of Eastern Germany into a full-fledged satellite state.

The Soviets apparently have given up hope of uniting Germany on their own terms, these officials believe, and have no intention of allowing free elections as the forerunner of unification. Instead they have embarked on the creation of a one-party state in East Germany on the same pattern as the Communist-dominated puppet states in Eastern Europe.

Gulf Widened

Americans here point out that the Russians have steadily widened the gulf between West and East Germany while exchanging notes with the West over the future of Germany.

The Russians demand that talks on a peace treaty should be placed as the first item on the agenda of a Big Four conference on Germany. In the American view, the Soviets then would insist that the peace treaty forbid Germany to

By JOHN RODERICK

ABOARD USS WASP (P)—Sixteen U. S. planes engaged in NATO's "Mainbrace" maneuvers claimed today to have damaged an "enemy" raider as a big international task force set powerful air-sea blows to eliminate the threatening warship.

The 16 planes from the huge American aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt located the "enemy" vessel last night 50 miles from the task force. The role of the raider in this big naval exercise is taken by the Canadian heavy cruiser Quebec.

Typhoon Messes Up Wake Island

HONOLULU (P)—A typhoon with winds of 140 miles an hour yesterday smashed buildings on tiny Wake Island, a mid-Pacific air base 2,300 miles west of here.

Regular communications with the isolated island with a population of 600 were cut off. But a maintenance man, using a ground-plane radio, established brief contact with Honolulu and said the Pan-American Hotel and several maintenance shacks were flattened.

There were no reports of casualties. The Civil Aeronautics Administration in Honolulu said all personnel on the island had taken refuge in three concrete buildings—the only structures capable of withstanding the tremendous winds.

The volunteer medical staff comprised Dr. A. H. Miller, Dr. Charles E. Kee, Dr. O. S. Hult and Dr. William C. Harrison.

Chest Budgets Are Approved

A Girl Scout budget of $2,900 and a Campfire Girl budget of $1,990.36 were approved by the executive committee of the Delta County Community Chest Council at its meeting in the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon.

This represents the amounts these participating agencies may expect to receive from the 1952 Community Chest campaign to finance their work during the entire year of 1953. A goal of $20,000 has been established for the campaign to start October 1. The 1951 quota also was $20,000.

Starting in January, 1953, balance sheets and detailed operating statements of all participating agencies will be required by the Community Chest Council, it was determined by the council's executive committee. They will be submitted by each agency at the end of its fiscal year. Itemized budget requests for succeeding years also will be required, it was decided.

"In order to consider intelligently itemized budget requests for succeeding years, it is deemed necessary that detailed operating statements and balance sheets be submitted by the agencies and studied by the executive committee," it was pointed out.

Right Attitude Makes Good Driver - Leonard

"When a man gets behind the wheel of a car he shows what he is really like—just as a few drinks will break down a man's inhibitions to reveal his true character."

Development of right attitudes for persons who operate autos is one of the most important parts of the traffic safety education program, Glen S. Leonard, Escanaba safety director, yesterday told the Escanaba Rotary Club at its noon luncheon meeting.

Leonard's observation on the importance of good driving behavior climaxed a talk in which he reviewed the National Safety Council's recent analysis of traffic safety in Escanaba.

Safety A 'Challenge' "The National Safety Council recommendations gives us an excellent program for action so that we—all of us, including every driver in the community—can help reduce the number of traffic accidents," Leonard said.

Meteoric Disc Found By Hilding Olson In Farm Field At Hyde

A 15-inch metal disc believed to be a piece of a meteor was found in a farm field Friday by Hilding Olson of Hyde.

The chunk of metal is buried about 6 feet under the surface and can be located with a pole through the open shaft it left as it dug into the ground.

Olson conjectured that the disc was probably flattened into its shape by the terrific impact with the ground. He estimates the object fell during the past week because the hole was not visible to him when he was working the field in the previous week.

Twice previously he has found meteoric metal in his fields. He intends to remove the disc.

Logging Congress Parade Will Be 40 Blocks Long

When the Logging Congress parade marches at 2:30 Saturday afternoon it will be the biggest parade in the history of Escanaba.

It will be 40 blocks long, include 21 musical units from Michigan and Wisconsin, and about 130 other exhibits of logging machinery and equipment and floats, according to Jack Krogdahl of Escanaba, parade chairman.

The Logging Congress convention will open Thursday and close Sunday night, bringing an estimated 1,000 delegates to the city.

Ironwood 1951 Champ
Displays of machinery and equipment used in the logging industry will be exhibited at the U. P. State Fair grounds.

The annual parade, in which bands and musical units compete for awards, is one of the features of the Logging Congress. Last year the 110-piece Ironwood High School band took first place in the Logging Congress parade held at Marquette.

The champion Ironwood High School band will again enter the parade this year, appearing in Escanaba Saturday afternoon with other musical units as follows:

Musical Units
Hayward American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, Marquette High School band, L'Anse au Loup High School, Baraga High School, L'Anse American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps.

Bowler, Wis., all Indian Drum and Bugle Corps, Iron Mountain High School Band, Hermansville High School Band, Reck Band, Escanaba High School Band, Ironwood Drum and Bugle Corps, Ironwood High School Band, Essemmer Drum and Bugle Corps, Wakefield Junior Drum and Bugle Corps and Baton Corps.

Ontonagon VFW Drum and Bugle Corps, Mellen, Wis., High School Band, Glidden, Wis., High School Band, Antigo, Wis., Drum and Bugle Corps, Antigo High School Band.

City of Escanaba Band, Sault Ste. Marie American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, Negaunee American Legion Junior Drum and Bugle Corps, possibly a band from Proctor, Minn., and tentatively the Green Bay Packer Lumberjack Band.

Other marching units will include the Stephenson American Legion Drill team, Iron Mountain VFW Drill team, and Menominee VFW Drill team.

Machinery Displays
Many of the bands and drill teams are coming from long distances for the event, Krogdahl pointed out. One such unit is the Hayward, Wis. (population 1,000) band which will pay all its expenses for the three-day trip.

Equipment displays to appear in the parade will total about 130 units, with the displays representing firms from New York and Chicago and Detroit to Milwaukee and other Wisconsin cities. Escanaba industries will be represented, St. Paul and Minneapolis manufacturers of logging equipment will enter units in the parade.

Locally there has been a good response from Delta county business and industrial firms interested in sponsoring floats in the parade, Krogdahl said. Those who have not yet entered floats and are preparing to do so are asked to notify the parade chairman, phone 1735.

Delta County Has Most Polio

MARQUETTE—The Upper Peninsula is now classified as a polio epidemic area, according to announcement today by the Marquette office of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The epidemic stage is reached whenever the incidence surpasses one case per 5,000 residents. There now have been 86 cases of polio reported this year in the Upper Peninsula, which has a population of about 325,000.

Only three counties above the straits have escaped any instance of polio so far this year. They are Baraga, Keweenaw and Mackinac. Total number of cases to date for each of the other counties:

Alger 1, Chippewa 15, Delta 30, Dickinson 3, Gogebic 1, Houghton 7, Iron 3, Lapeer 2, Marquette 10, Menominee 8, Ontonagon 3 and Schoolcraft 3.

Three have been three fatalities from the disease—two from Delta county and one from Menominee county.

45 Attend First Fire Clinic Class

About 45 firemen from nine Upper Peninsula cities attended the first session of the regional fire school here last night.

The men were divided into three classes for instruction in basic fire fighting techniques in hoses and pumper operations, uses of ropes and ladder evolutions.

Representatives of the fire departments of the cities of Munising, Newberry, Iron River, Chatham, Marquette, Negaunee, Stambaugh, Gladstone and Bark River arrived yesterday afternoon for last night's session. They returned home after the session. Some will report back for subsequent classes.

The clinic will continue tonight for the next three nights and will conclude Thursday with a public demonstration of oil pit fire fighting on the site of the former federal ore docks in Wells.

More firemen are expected for each of the remaining sessions. The largest visiting delegation last night was a group of 13 volunteer firemen from Chatham.

This is the sixth regional fire school to be held in this area under the sponsorship of the University of Michigan extension service.

EHS Now Has 36 Students Engaged In Co-op Training

Thirty-six Escanaba Senior High School students are participating in the cooperative training program at the school, Allan Mathison, coordinator, said today.

Enrollment in the program, which is part of the curriculum offering of EHS, is about the same as in other years.

Students work half-days in retail stores, banks, telephone offices, printing shops and other establishments to gain work experience and occupational training. They also attend class half-days and are provided with academic work in related subjects.

The program is conducted in conjunction with the Vocational Education division of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

Students receive school credit for their work on the job. They are paid by the firm in which they work, usually at the going wage for the job.

The cooperative training program is a factor in holding students in school, when otherwise some might lose interest, and aids students financially also, Mathison says.

Ask Strikers Repay Welfare

CHEBOYGAN—Most county welfare directors want state legislation to compel strikers to pay back relief funds they receive while idle due to labor disputes.

The State Association of County Welfare Boards went on record favoring such legislation at its closing convention session here Friday. Manistee was chosen for the 1953 convention.

Walter J. Dunne, Wayne County welfare director and chairman of the association's legislative committee, said reimbursement agreements with strikers were not legal under present law.

"The proposed legislation would be permissive in nature," he said. "I do not believe that Wayne County would compel such agreements even if the Legislature passes the enabling act. Relief is supposed to be based on need, not on the cause or need."

Dunne said the association acted on the request of the county officials who feared a prolonged strike would exhaust their relief funds. He cited the present copper strike in the Upper Peninsula.

"Long strikes place a heavy load on relief agencies," Dunne said. "The Detroit and Wayne County welfare departments were hard pressed during the General Motors and Chrysler strikes, for example. But I don't believe either department would attempt to enforce reimbursement agreements."

At Dunne's request, the association...

Truman 'Mess' People's Fault? That's What Stevenson Contends

GOV. ADLAI Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president, must be taking the long view—a view that does not embrace the Nov. 4 presidential election—when he ascribes to the American people the "fault" of corruption in the Truman administration.

The scholarly Stevenson borrows from the writings of the late Viscount James Bryce, (1838-1922) British statesman and historian, in his conception that the people get the kind of government they deserve.

"Whose fault is it," Stevenson asked in his Los Angeles campaign speech, "that we get what we deserve in government?"

And his answer: "It is the fault of you, the people. Your public servants serve you right; indeed often they serve you better than your apathy and indifference deserves."

As a generalized statement Stevenson's answer is acceptable to the political science student; as an answer to the Truman administration's record of corruption in government high places it is evasive and unsatisfying.

For Stevenson to accuse the people of the United States of apathy and indifference is one thing; to charge that this apathy and indifference is responsible for a long list of wrong-doing in the higher echelon of the Truman command is vicious and unjustifiable.

Certainly that majority of citizens who voted for Truman did not give carte blanche to O'Dwyer's appointment as ambassador to Mexico to escape the crime investigation in New York City; to Truman's selection of Internal Revenue heads who ignored flagrant tax scandals; to Truman's laughing "red herring" rejoinder to accusations of communist infiltration of the government; to Truman's flouting of the constitution in the seizure of the steel mills.

No, the people of the United States did not in these instances "get the kind of government they deserve." And all of the instances cited are major departures from a code of integrity which has come to be expected from those who hold public office.

For Stevenson to say that the "fault" is with the people of the country is to protest that Truman and his administration are without fault, which is obviously unfair.

The stigma of the Teapot Dome oil scandals still attaches to the Harding administration, and former President Hoover is to a large segment of our population the symbol of economic panic and depression. That Stevenson should attempt to place the responsibility for corruption in the Truman administration upon the "people" is a new approach to the old virtues of honesty and integrity.

Stevenson's stand indicates either an idealism so great it ignores realities, or a deliberate effort to whitewash the Truman record. And there is the possibility, of course, that it combines both.

Other Editorial Comments

SIDESADDLE ADLAI (Milwaukee Sentinel)

It was not just a barred bolt of caustic humor which Senator Nixon shot at Governor Stevenson in calling him "Sidesaddle Adlai."

The necessity for "riding the Truman nag" in his campaign for election as President is as obvious to Governor Stevenson as it is unavoidable, and we suspect it is as distasteful to him as it is unpalatable to the rest of us.

But whether he sits sidesaddle or backwards, he still is going the way the nag is going and at exactly the same pace.

As Senator Nixon suggests, there may be a certain sympathy with "Sidesaddle Adlai" in his dilemma, but his instinct to turn his profile or even his back to the way he must go does not change the direction he is going.

It was not Governor Stevenson's fault, for instance, that President Truman gumbled up the steel strike, costing the country fifteen million tons of steel at a time the lives of American fighting men in Korea depended on adequate supplies of steel.

But he does not dare say President Truman was wrong, and in fact he has been compelled to say the Presidential seizure powers wielded by Mr. Truman without legal authority should be given the President as a matter of law.

Senator Nixon's appeal is probably not very funny to Governor Stevenson, but it is not funny to the country either that he only looks in another direction while what we desperately need and want is a change of direction.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—The Republican command has worked out a high-powered publicity campaign which will be unique in the history of American politics, and is calculated to bring victory in November.

The plan is to ask national advertisers, most of them friendly to the GOP, to surrender radio and TV advertising "spots" to the Republican National Committee during the last three weeks of the campaign, and then saturate the airways with "platters" or transcriptions from General Eisenhower.

The "spot" announcements, usually one to two minutes long, would consist of a question asked of Eisenhower by a voter, with his reply.

"The General's answer," according to the GOP plan, "would be his complete comprehension of the problem and his determination to do something about it when elected. Thus he inspires loyalty without prematurely committing himself to any strait-jacketed answer."

The high-powered publicity scheme was first evolved by Fred Rudge of the consulting firm of Fisher, Rudge and Nebel of New York, who first sold the idea to Walter Williams and Jack Whitney. It was discussed by various GOP leaders on Aug. 25, and on Sept. 2 Gen. Eisenhower himself gave his personal O. K. He is setting aside half a day when the transcriptions are to be recorded.

Republican leaders felt they would have no trouble getting big advertisers to relinquish their radio and TV spots three weeks before elections, since all but two of the big advertising agencies in New York are considered Republican, and most of their clients.

The text of the GOP publicity plan, which speaks for itself, follows:

"Getting spots on radio and TV can be accomplished by asking national advertisers to surrender their spots for these three weeks, thus throwing their purchase open to the Republican and Democratic parties from the stations and the networks. Since the Republican plan would be organized and the Democratic would not, the Republicans could obtain the lion's share of the good time."

"It has been proven over and over in the course of radio-TV experience in this country that spots are the quickest, most effective and cheapest means of getting across a message in the shortest possible time."

"It is recommended that $2,000,000 be spent in three weeks on this campaign. This is at the rate of $34,000,000 a year for a national advertiser—an unheard-of saturation campaign in the radio-TV field. Then again when it is remembered that this $2,000,000 would be spent in only 49 counties, the pressure potential increases to that equivalent to spending at the rate of $135,000,000 a year—a tremendous message-leverage in key areas."

ONE SPOT PER HOUR

"The spots themselves would be the height of simplicity. People from each of the 49 areas would each ask the General a question. Apparently they would be speaking directly to the General, though actually to simplify production and reduce the load on the General's time, they would be filmed separately."

"These spots will consist of questions raised by people speaking in the accents of the various areas, answered by the General with all the warmth and charm of which he is capable. They will be aired at the rate of roughly one an hour over the pick of 56 TV and 244 radio stations in these 49 areas."

"This ties in with a further recommendation that the spots not be made until the first week in October. This permits the greatest latitude in assessing what the problems are at that time, rather than risking political changes ensuing after the spots are made."

TAX COLLECTOR INDICTED

Three years ago neither the public, the White House nor the Treasury had any inkling that the deputy commissioner of internal revenue, Dan Bolich was anything but a conscientious tax collector.

Then, on Dec. 17, 1949, there appeared an item in Drew Pearson's column that Bolich had been seen in the company of Frankie Costello, and that he had behaved in a strange manner in throwing out a case against a big gambling gang in California though the evidence seemed airtight.

Then on Dec. 20, 1949, Pearson came back with the strange way Bolich had settled a fraud case against Mid-Continent Petroleum despite opposition from other tax agents.

Later Pearson disclosed links between Bolich and the famed, mysterious Henry Grunwald. Again he told how Bolich was a free spender, had more money than his government salary warranted; also how, when he took office, New York gangsters sent flowers; and how Bolich ordered agents off an investigation of Costello.

These stories appeared off and on for more than a year. They were difficult stories to publish because they took careful research and, if wrong, involved libel.

Finally on April 11, 1952, Pearson told about Bolich's $31 shirts and $3.50 handkerchiefs.

Last week, three years after Pearson's expose started, Bolich was indicted.

Seller Of Iceboxes To Eskimos Now Selling Himself On Radio

By WADE JONES

NEW YORK.—(NEA) — This is to inform Harpo Marx, Dorothy Lamour, H. Allen Smith and others that their old friend Jim Moran is still alive—if you want to call it that—and kicking.

Jim's got a part-time job talking over the radio in a restaurant in the middle of the night and he doesn't have to get up until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Which suits him fine.

It leaves him plenty of free time to meditate on the more obscure aspects of semantics, to tilt the brimming bowl, play the guitar, commune with his beautiful girl friends which are legion, and think big thoughts like how to sell an icebox to an Eskimo or Manhattan back to the Indians.

All of which is to say that Now in his mid-forties, Jim is a well-padded hunk of man, 6 feet 2 inches tall, and weighing better than 220. He has thin, straight sandy hair and a thin, straight sandy mustache. Looks a little like Paul Whiteman.

But this super-salesman of nonsense has a manner as gentle and beguiling as a child's and a pair of the bluest, kindest eyes ever saw. The combination has endeared him eternally to the ladies and enabled him to turn some extraordinary fast bucks.

Take the time he flew to Alaska to sell an Eskimo an icebox. Before leaving he persuaded a radio network to advance him $300 for three broadcasts from Alaska, got a natural ice association to provide him with an icebox to sell the Eskimo and $2500 to make some public tributes to natural ice, and induced an airline to fly him to Alaska and back free.

He sold the icebox to an Eskimo for $100, two fox pelts, and a chunk of carved ivory. All with appropriate publicity.

JIM MORAN: "Going to an office is for horses."

Gentleman Jim—maybe the zaniest press agent this country was ever afflicted with—is still doing business at the old stand.

His latest contribution to the daily press involved pigeons and eyeglasses. It started when a man with a concoction to keep spectacles from fogging up gave Jim some money to stir up publicity on the subject.

Jim's first act was to remain in bed several more days and ponder the matter. On afternoon he pried himself out of the sack and announced his plan.

He was going to get hold of 100 homing pigeons in New York, take them down to Washington and release them to fly back here. First he would equip each pigeon with a tiny pair of spectacles. Fifty of the spectacles would be treated with the anti-fogging up preparation, and 50 would be untreated. The idea, of course, was that the pigeons with the treated spectacles could see to get back to New York much better than the others.

The results of the pigeon race were somewhat inconclusive. As Jim recalls, one pigeon (without the anti-fogging preparation, naturally) wound up in Puerto Rico, and 30 haven't been heard from to this day.

But with a typical Moran twist, Jim had rigged this story so the name of the product couldn't be omitted from the pictures. He pasted the letters of the two-letter name of the product on the spectacle lenses. And that's the way the pigeon pictures turned up in newspapers around the country.

He also had two Indians hack out 300 pounds of ice from the Mendenhall Glacier. And he got hold of two Alaska fleas which he put in a little box and pocketed.

Back in Hollywood, he sold 10 pounds of the ice to Dorothy Lamour's press agent for $500 so Dotty could use it for facials. The rest he peddled to ice dealers for displays.

He sold the fleas to a movie company which he happened to know was making a picture with fleas in it.

These days Jim is pretty much occupied being a thinker. Every week night from 11 to 1 he holds forth over the radio from a New York restaurant that's a favorite hangout of the newspaper, advertising, publishing crowd.

It allows Moran to stay up all night and sleep all day. Keep regular hours? Not for James.

"That business of getting up every morning and going to an office," he says gently, "is for horses."

Science Finds Hot Atoms Lazy, Cool Ones Active

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
(P) Science Editor

OAK RIDGE, Tenn.—Some hot atoms are lazy.

Radioactive carbon atoms are one of the lazy kind. They are larger and heavier than ordinary carbon atoms. The extra weight makes them sluggish, somewhat like excess fat on a human being.

Radio-carbon is about 10 per cent slower in its chemical reactions than ordinary carbon, experiments at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory show. Its laziness varies with the temperature.

This fact is important, because radio-carbon is being used widely to learn new things about biology and human chemistry, the action of drugs, and other puzzles.

Chemicals can be made containing the radio-carbon. The under different conditions.

Just this kind of timing is being done by Dr. Alan J. Collins and associates of the organic chemicals group, chemical division of the Oak Ridge Laboratory. This unit has headquarters in the biology division.

So far they have studied two kinds of radio-active carbon—carbon-14 and carbon-13. Both are heavier than ordinary carbon, of atomic weight 12.

Slower Reactions

At room temperature, carbon-14 is about 10 per cent slower in reaction rate than ordinary carbon, they find. At low temperatures, the radio-carbon is even more sluggish. At higher temperatures, the difference between the two gets smaller.

Carbon-13 is only 5 per cent slower than ordinary carbon at room temperature. Its reaction rate also varies with temperature. These measurements still are tentative.

So They Say

There is no doubt in my mind that if the Kremlin thought they could win World War III without too much damage to themselves, they would not hesitate to start it.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

MAN'S BEST FRIEND—Some people firmly believe the old saying that a dog is man's best friend. We would like to point out that in our opinion man is often not the dog's best friend, although he may think so.

Cruelty to dumb animals is not uncommon even among the enlightened in civilized countries. The drowning of kittens or their abandonment to starve along the roadside at a tender age, the placing of puppies in a bag and the tossing them out of a moving car along the highway are not the acts of tenderhearted individuals.

People like puppies and kittens—if there are not too many of them.

Delta county woodlands are over-run with half-wild prowling cats seeking food, and with dogs that must prey on garbage piles in the city or beg from door to door to keep from starving.

MOST CRUEL WAY—Albert Hinrichs of 316 First Ave. S. is a fireman for the Chicago & North Western Railroad.

He has a genuine fondness for dogs and cats, especially the little helpless ones that are unable to bite the hand that slaps or the foot that kicks them.

The other day while the locomotive which Hinrichs was firing passed the Danforth road crossing in Escanaba he saw two very young kittens along the road where they had been tossed by an owner who no longer wanted them.

Too young to fend for themselves, they would die of starvation.

"That's about the most cruel way in the world to get rid of animals," he said bitterly, his blue eyes snapping.

CHILDREN AT PLAY—Unfortunately there are many people who take lightly their responsibility to the young animals born of their pets. It would be more humane to take the young to a veterinarian to have them disposed of—but that is the last thing they think of.

Sometimes the kittens or puppies will be tolerated around the house until they grow large enough to be bothersome.

Children of the family are allowed to abuse the little creatures unmercifully. Puppies are pushed off porches or cuffed and beaten until they howl in pain, kittens are dragged around by the tail or by a paw until they learn to scratch back in self-defense.

And if the dog or the cat draws one spot of blood on the child, the parents are likely to abuse the animals even more. More often than not it is the child, rather than the pet, who is in need of training.

THE REAL HOME—Those who have a high regard for pets will assure the animal a good home.

The animal should be well fed and adequately housed, kept free of parasites and vermin, and taken out regularly for exercise.

In the city, where for the protection of everyone it is necessary to restrict the roaming of stray dogs, this is virtually impossible unless the owner takes special measures in the care of his pet.

It is not uncommon in town for pets to be chained in the hot sun hour after hour with an empty water dish beside them.

THE UNWANTED ONES—There are several hundred dogs in the city of Escanaba, most of them unlicensed.

Under city ordinance they may not run at large from June 1 to October 1, and under state law they must be confined during the hours of the night.

Perhaps it is to be expected that owners of pets in the city become tired of their obligations before the summer ends. For this reason there are many a dog and cat taken for a "last ride" in the family car to be dumped out alongside the country road.

There they die or become half-wild strays proof that many men are not the best friend of the animals he claims as friend.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

CAMPAIGN ORATORY

Campaign oratory is now in full swing—presidential and congressional. Now we can learn what "power with words" can accomplish, for the various candidates for political office must rely almost wholly upon words, though they point also to past deeds to add force to their words.

The candidates or their supporters will continue to slung mud at the other fellow. That's defamation (DEF-uh-MAY-shun), calumny (CAL-uh-ni), or slander, if the statements are untrue, and may become libel if the defamatory statements are written or printed.

But the candidates will also indulge in some praiseworthy remarks about themselves. This is laudation (law-DAY-shun). Another word is extollment (ex-TOHL-munt), from Latin extollere, raise up. The one who praises is a laudator (LAW-duh-tor) or extoller (ex-TOHL-ur), and the nature of the remarks are laudatory (LAW-duh-TOR-i).

They will brag, boast and vaunt—and it is more than likely that there will be an appreciable amount of bluffing and four-flushing. Such can be termed braggadocio (BRAG-uh-DOH-sho). We may even hear some insolence, arrogance, and bumptiousness.

But we can also depend upon a considerable degree of flag-waving. This, depending upon its nature, may be termed chauvinism or jingoism. Chauvinism (SHO-vi-nizm) is greatly exaggerated patriotism or devotion to a party, cause or person. The term is derived from a French soldier, Nicholas Chauvin, who, after serving under Napoleon, spent the rest of his life glorifying that emperor.

Jingoism (JING-go-izm) is that kind of patriotism that favors a blustering foreign policy. The term, arising in English history about seventy-five years ago, came from a popular song, "We don't want to fight, but if we do, we've got the ships, we've got the men, we've got the money too."

What are the school kids kicking about? Mother has to do some work all day long!

The postmaster here is a Democrat, of course, and he upset the Republicans no end a few days ago. He started building an addition to his house. The Eisenhower Club called a hasty meeting and resolved that if the postmaster was that certain of his job, it was high time the General started using strong language.

The Doctor Says... Take Care to Lessen Risk of Complications From Measles

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN M.D. — Written for NEA Service

With the coming of fall and the opening of schools, the common contagious diseases of children are likely to break out again in full force.

Among these, measles ranks high, and it seems wise to point out that this common and usually mild disease can produce serious complications and should therefore be looked on more cautiously than many people seem to realize.

Measles is caused by a virus; once in a while this virus attacks the nervous system. It also weakens the body so that bronchopneumonia or bronchitis may set in and this too often results in serious long-lasting difficulties with the lungs.

When measles does develop, therefore, precautions should be taken to lessen the risk of complications.

Bed rest until the acute stage of the disease is over should be enforced as many of the serious complications come from letting the victim out of bed too early. Plenty of fluids and easily digested foods should be given.

The eyes are sensitive to light, so reading and eye strain should be avoided. Often it is well to have the shades in the sick room partially drawn.

Tepid baths are helpful in preventing itching and in soothing the skin; constipation is common and should be prevented.

The sulfa drugs or antibiotics may be useful in preventing some common complications.

The first symptoms of measles develop about two weeks after exposure to a patient who has been ill. Since during the first three or four days of the disease the symptoms resemble those of an ordinary cold with slight fever, many youngsters expose others without knowing that they have measles at all. Indeed it is most contagious before the rash appears.

WATCH FOR COLD SYMPTOM

The diagnosis of measles is often difficult at first. During the time when there is much measles in the community, youngsters who develop symptoms of a slight cold with fever should be kept at home and away from their playmates. This will help to prevent the spread of the disease to others.

Those who are exposed to measles can be prevented from developing a severe attack by an injection either of serum taken from a person who is convalescing from measles or by a substance called human immune globulin.

Either will usually prevent the development of the disease, if given early enough, or will make the disease take a milder form.

What Woods Can Be Sold As Mahogany?

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—To the average American, no matter how you cut it, it's still mahogany.

But not in the Federal Trade Commission.

The FTC figures there's mahogany and there's mahogany. That's why Round 2 comes up tomorrow in its struggle with a hard problem.

Speaking botanically, says the FTC, mahogany is a species, genus swietenia, of the meliaceae family of trees.

Buyers Complain
But it adds that, judging from complaints, people have been buying "mahogany" furniture and stuff made out of wood classified botanically as something else.

What could happen in such a situation is obvious. A fellow could buy what he thought was a mahogany end table and wind up with padouk or dipterocarpus parked in his living room. Those are names of woods generally sold as mahogany.

The FTC says the hearing re-opening tomorrow—Round 1 last June 30 was recessed until then—must help it decide answers to questions like:

What woods should be called

Physicians And Dentists Drafted

LANSING (AP)—Twenty-one physicians and 12 dentists have been ordered for induction into military service Oct. 30 by Michigan draft boards, Lt. Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director, reported today.

The physicians are those who have not reached the age of 51 by the time of their induction, who have not had sufficient military service in World War II or who were educated at the expense of the U. S. Government.

Dentists being called are those born between 1917 and 1928.

Selective Service headquarters explained that it is starting to dip into "Priority 3" men — those who have had no previous military experience.

Over 3000 Enrolled In Rural Schools In Delta County

Rural schools in Delta County this year opened their doors to approximately the same number of students as they did last year, reports filed with Hagle Quartermaster, Delta County school superintendent, indicate.

Total rural enrollment this year is 3,136, but two schools, Nahma and Brampton township, have not reported kindergarten and first grade enrollment as yet, and another school, Fairbanks township, has not submitted a complete report. Enrollment in the 1951-52 school year was 3,140.

This year, the five rural high schools have a total enrollment of 508, as compared with 468 last year. Distribution of rural high school students is as follows: Bark River-Harris, 147; Nahma, 53; Perkins, 54; Rapid River, 119; and Maple Ridge, 135.

County Total 6600
Escanaba has more than 2300 students enrolled in public and parochial schools, and Gladstone has a public school enrollment of 895 and a parochial enrollment of 223.

These students are not included in the county totals. When added to rural school enrollments, the figure for all Delta County students shows nearly 6,600 students.

Grade school enrollments for the rural school districts are as follows:

Rock—200; Perkins—147; Rapid River—327 (including 7th and 8th grades); Bark River-Harris—508; Escanaba township—233; Nahma township—135; Garden township—129; Brampton township—88; Ford River township—139; Cornell township—87; Wells township—540; Fairbanks township—95 (estimate).

Wells township school enrollments are distributed as follows: Wells Central, 189; Pine Ridge, 102; Newhall, 86; Soo Hill, 108; Bay View, 20; Chemical plant location, 26.

Rural grade school enrollment this year is in excess of 2600. Last year it was 2,672.

Primary Schools Receive $93,041 From State Fund

A partial payment of the primary school interest fund was made yesterday to the school districts by county treasurer Ann S. Villeneuve after the money was received from the state auditor general.

The sum, $93,041.50, represents a 50 per cent part of the total which is generally disbursed to the county units at this time. The total was apportioned by Mrs. Villeneuve on the basis of $18.99 per 1951 census child.

The Escanaba public school system will receive $37,058.98 in the disbursement and Gladstone schools, $12,628.35.

The other school districts were mailed checks in the following amounts: Baldwin, $2,183.85; Bark River, $7,510.54; Brampton, $1,481.22; Cornell, $1,766.07; Escanaba, $3,494.16; Fairbanks, $1,528.70.

Ford River, $2,658.60; Garden, $2,155.36; Maple Ridge, $4,908.92; Nahma, $2,943.45; Rapid River, $5,184.27; and Wells township, $7,539.03.

Seniors, juniors and sophomores in St. Joseph High School in Escanaba have elected class officers for the coming year.

Freshmen will elect officers later, when they are better acquainted. A party sponsored by seniors, to welcome St. Joseph freshmen, is scheduled at the school Sept. 24. Earlier this month a mixer was held in the parish hall for the 71 beginning high school students.

Class officers elected are as follows:

Seniors—John Gregory, president; Harlan Pepin, vice president; Mary Ann Bergman, secretary; Annette Paquette, treasurer. Juniors—Stanley Venne, president; Patricia Rooney, vice president; Mary Manning, secretary; Gerald McDonough, treasurer. Sophomores—Raymond Roy, president; Barbara Ottensman, vice president; James Weber, secretary; Kathleen Rooney, treasurer.

JUNIOR ACTS UP—Smoke rises from the earth's newest active volcano, located on San Benedicto island, small uninhabited spot of land 780 miles south of San Diego. Scientists say the cone is a bright yellow in color and has risen to a height of 1500 feet. The new volcano has been erupting at 20 minute intervals. (NEA Telephoto)

Soviets Give Vital Changchun Railroad Back To China Reds

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union announced today that it is handing back control of Manchuria's vital Changchun Railway to Communist China this year but that Russia will continue to use the Manchurian naval base of Port Arthur—190 miles west of Korea—until Japan signs a peace treaty with the Communists.

The new agreement, announced here by the Soviet news agency Tass, came at the conclusion of top-level Soviet-Chinese talks which have been going on here since Aug. 17.

The Tass announcement included three important points:

1. The new agreement on Port Arthur, which was occupied by Soviet forces at the end of World War II. Under the 30-year Russian-Chinese treaty of friendship signed in Moscow on Feb. 14, 1950, the Soviets agreed to get out of Port Arthur by the end of 1952. In a note published today Red China's Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai asked the Soviets to stay because in the absence of the Japanese peace treaty with the Communist Powers, "conditions have arisen dangerous for peace and favorable for a reiteration of Japanese aggression."

2. A communiqué said that "important political and economic questions concerning the relations" between the two countries were discussed. Details were not given. Under the 1950 pact, Russia granted China 300 million dollars in credits toward the purchase of materials and equipment from the Soviet Union. Western observers had suggested that China probably was asking for additional aid because of her expenses in the Korean War.

3. Return of the Changchun Railway by the end of 1952, as provided in the 1950 agreement. A separate communiqué said the railway would be returned to full Chinese administration by the end of this year, without any Russian payment of compensation for its use. A mixed Soviet-Chinese commission will handle details of the hand-over.

nominee 174 of the 266 needed to clinch a victory.

But in the West, as in the East, even a slight shifting of the political winds could blow almost any state in an entirely different direction by the time Nov. 4 rolls around.

The views of editors and correspondents in the Mountain and Western region add up to an opinion that most of the states are so close at this point as to be very much in doubt. A majority of the participating newspapers which have taken a stand are backing Eisenhower for the presidency.

The West has a consistent record of voting Democratic in every presidential election from 1932 on. Oregon was the only one of the 11 states to go Republican four years ago.

On just three other occasions within the last two decades have any other of these states voted for a Republican for president. Colorado did it in 1940 and 1944 and Wyoming in 1944.

Sick of Trumanism
Editors report a widespread feeling among the people that it's time for a change. They speak also of "too much Trumanism," dissatisfaction with inflation, high taxes, foreign policy, war in Korea; "corruption and communism in government." To a much lesser degree than in the Middle Atlantic states is there mention of Eisenhower's personal popularity as a campaign factor.

The way the candidates campaign is mentioned frequently as a factor that may have a telling effect on the November election results in a number of states.

Ruwitich Attending Curriculum Meeting

George Ruwitich, assistant superintendent of Escanaba city schools, left today for Battle Creek, where he will attend a curriculum conference at the MEA camp, St. Mary's Lake.

Ruwitich, who is chairman of the Upper Michigan Curriculum Planning committee, was accompanied by A. T. Allen, superintendent of Kingsford schools. They will return Thursday night.

An Upper Peninsula Curriculum Planning Conference, to which all U. P. schools have been asked to send at least one representative, will be held Oct. 23-25 at the Wells Park camp. Details of the program for this conference will be worked out at a meeting of the planning committee of the U. P. group at Marquette, Oct. 1, just before the annual M. E. A. convention gets underway there, Oct. 2-3.

Big Bay Murder Trial Started

MARQUETTE (AP)—The jury of 12 men and two women picked to try Army Lt. Coleman Peterson for murder in the slaying of a bartender heard yesterday how five bullets coursed through the victim's body.

Peterson claims temporary insanity in the slaying of Maurice K. Chenoweth in the latter's Big Bay tavern last July 30. The 38-year-old officer is accused of killing Chenoweth after Peterson's 42-year-old, red-haired wife reported to him the bartender had beaten and raped her.

Dr. Arthur Amolsch, Marquette pathologist, testified as the trial opened that five bullets entered Chenoweth's body, but said he was unable to determine in what order they were fired.

Dr. Amolsch, however, was positive that one which entered through the left side of the chest caused death.

Honeymoon Couple Found Dead In Bed At Las Vegas, Nev.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—As friends made plans for an elaborate wedding for them, a young couple—apparently honeymooning—were found shot to death yesterday in a lavish penthouse of the swank Flamingo Hotel.

Officers said murder and suicide were indicated, although no notes were found. Investigators were without a clue to the motive for the deaths.

Set For Next Tuesday
The man was identified as Adrian Lionel Grodnick, 19, son of Manel Grodnick, wealthy New York clothing manufacturer, and the girl as Betty M. Baron, 25, pretty brunette daughter of William Baron, Los Angeles apartment house manager. She was a 1949 graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles.

Friends in Los Angeles said the couple had planned a formal wedding in Beverly Hills, Calif., next Tuesday.

Near collapse upon learning of the tragedy, the girl's mother Mrs. Baron, said in Los Angeles that more than 50 of Grodnick's relatives and friends and members of the Baron family from the East planned to attend the wedding and reception. Some are already en route to Los Angeles.

"Now we will have a funeral instead of a beautiful wedding," Mrs. Baron wept.

Wears Wedding Ring
The bodies were discovered by hotel employees. Attired in nightclothes, they were sprawled on a bed under the covers. There was no indication of a struggle.

Detectives said the girl wore a wedding ring. The couple had registered Sept. 10 as newlyweds.

Sheriff's Capt. Ralph Lamb said no marriage certificate has been found. "They were not married here," he told a reporter, "but they may have been married some place on the way here."

Report $1,000 In Cash Taken From Menominee Tavern

MENOMINEE — Menominee police Monday were investigating theft of a steel cash box containing between $4,000 and $5,000 in checks and more than $1,000 in cash from Curly's Bar, operated by Evert C. Saunders, at 3723-10th St. early Saturday night.

The cash box was recovered Monday by Saunders when it was found in the back seat of his automobile. All of the checks were in a leather check folder in the box but the cash was missing. The checks were mostly payroll checks which Saunders had cashed for workers over the week-end.

According to the police report, the box was taken from the tavern between 7 and 10 p. m. Saturday while Saunders was making beer deliveries.

Drunk Guesses Wrong
DETROIT (AP)—Said the judge to the defendant:

"I'll give you a break if you can tell me—within 25—the number of times you've been arrested for being drunk."

"Eighty-five," guessed the defendant, William Sweeney, 62.

"Wrong," said Judge Joseph A. Gillis. "It's 198. Ninety days."

Waits 22 Years
DETROIT (AP)—Harold E. Dorland, who had less than six months of married life back in 1930 before his wife left him, filed recently for divorce.

When the suit came up yesterday the judge asked him why he finally went to court after all these years. "I don't think she's coming back," Dorland replied.

Cost Of Straits Bridge Estimated At 90 Millions

LANSING (AP)—Engineers today revised upward their estimates of the cost and revenues of the proposed Mackinac Straits bridge.

The Mackinac Bridge authority published the report of Coverdale and Colpitts, New York Traffic engineers, which brought up to date their two-year old estimate.

The engineers boosted their estimate of the total cost of the bridge from $87,000,000 to $90,000,000, including financing; raised interest costs from 3½ per cent to 4 per cent and proposed a 25 per cent increase in toll rates over the current ferry fares.

The new report notes a 31.5 per cent increase in traffic since 1950, compared with a 20 per cent increase in that period estimated in the two-year old report.

The engineers said the increased traffic reflected favorable economic conditions, a general increase in traffic and the addition of the new ferry "Vacationland."

Prentiss M. Brown, authority chairman, said he hoped that the new report would encourage a favorable decision from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which has been asked for a loan of $85,000,000 to finance the bridge.

Carferry Strike May End Today
DETROIT (AP)—Licensed officers of eight of 20 strikebound carferries stood by today, waiting word from their union officials to start moving their boats again across Lake Michigan and the Detroit River.

Representatives of the Wabash and Ann Arbor railroads sat down with leaders of the Great Lakes Licensed Officers Organization (9:30 a. m.) to work out an agreement to arbitrate the dispute which has kept the boats in port since the Fourth of July.

Such an agreement would send union members back to their posts immediately on five Ann Arbor carferries which normally ply between Michigan and Wisconsin points along Lake Michigan and on three Wabash boats between Detroit and Windsor, Ont.

The other 12 boats struck at the same time are owned by the Chesapeake & Ohio and Grand Trunk Western railroads. Both of these refused union terms for arbitrating the contract dispute involving all four railroads.

Deadline Near For Filing Application For Absentee Ballot
City clerk George Harvey is again reminding servicemen's relatives that the deadline on applying for absentee ballots is drawing near.

October 6 is the last day on which application can be made for the ballots on which servicemen can cast a vote in the November general election.

Harvey informed residents that members of the armed services over 21 need not register to vote. An immediate relative can sign for him and an absentee ballot will be sent to the serviceman.

He also advised that relatives of servicemen overseas should apply immediately for the ballots to allow for the time necessary for the form to travel overseas and return.

Two Prisoners Kill Deputy U. S. Marshal In Downtown Tucson
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Two prisoners fatally shot a deputy U. S. marshal in downtown Tucson yesterday and escaped, but they were recaptured 30 minutes later.

Edmund L. Schweppe, the marshal, had taken the pair to a dentist's office on the seventh floor of the Valley National Bank Building for treatment.

Schweppe was shot in the back with his own revolver, apparently after he removed handcuffs joining the men.

The prisoners are Arthur Eugene Fuller, 27, born in Illinois, and Thomas W. Abbott, 20, born in Ohio. They were charged with killing a federal officer and escaping.

Kremlin Believes There'll Never Be A United Germany

form any alliances with her wartime enemies. This would kill the elaborate program for the political and military integration of Germany with the West.

Free Elections Opposed
The Western Powers insist that a neutral election inspection must come first. This would determine if really free elections to set up a national German government could be held in the four zones of Germany.

A peace treaty would be negotiated only after this national German government was operating.

The Russians apparently realize that a freely elected German government would wipe out Communist control in East Germany and thus end their hopes of neutralizing all of Germany. Such a government might also challenge Moscow's hold on the East European satellites.

So Soviet policy now is to mobilize the resources of East Germany to help counterbalance the economic strength and the planned rearmament of Western Germany.

Ruark Referees Battling Roses

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—I like Billy I al- so like Eleanor. For that reason I avoided the thorns of the Roses when they were neither smelling so very sweet, by any other name, on the front pages of the papers. They have settled their marital mess, now, all but the money, and I would like to read 'em a lit- tle lecture.

They both made considerable mistakes, of course, and it looked to be the nastiest divorce on re- cord until Billy saw he was out- numbered and quit in court the other day. I can tell him where he made his most serious mistake as a showman.

The big mistake he made was called several months ago by a wise woman I know. This was when Billy challenged the vali- dity of his marriage to Eleanor, after a dozen years of marriage.

"This," the wise woman said, "is where Billy loses my business, and where he will lose the sym- pathy of the country and the courts. No matter what Eleanor has done, if any."

Roseholm Haven

It turns out that a man who has made a big thing of wedded bliss for a lot of years cannot suddenly switch and say he was never mar- ried to the dame at all, but was living in sin all the time. Billy had a chapter in his book which he called "Holm, sweet Holm," and Eleanor's maiden name is Holm.

COMPLETE AF TRAINING—Recent graduates of the Air Force basic training course at Lackland Air Base, Tex., are Dwaine Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Taylor of Schaffer, and Gunnar Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Peterson of Gladstone, Rte. 1. Both youths will be assigned to duty at another air base following the end of their recruit training.

The book was published just a few years back, I disremember how many, but no more than four.

Billy bought a big property out around Mt. Kisco and named it Roseholm. I have been a guest there within the past two years. There are matchbooks around with "Roseholm" on the covers. Billy wrote a column for a while.

The column was forever full of references to the sweetness of Lit- tle Nell, his lawful-wedded wife. He made a big public pitch about Eleanor, for a long, long time, ev- en during the time when he later said he was not living with his gal on husband-wife terms.

Billy heaved a lot of reeking charges Eleanor's way, and Nellie chucked some smokers right back at him. You can call it all bad taste, even if true, but none of the taste was so bad as Will's attempt to assassinate his long-term mar- riage by trying to prove that it had never been legal. That was pretty dreadful, chum.

That was knocking down the dignity of a relationship Rose had sanctified and exploited publicly. That was killing off the good years as a pettish slap-back at the bad. That was destroying all the good without resolving the bad. That made a sham and a lie out of the whole thing, and it beat you, Billy. Because not all of it could have been bad.

I will never quarrel with the right of a man to become disen- chanted with a maid, or the other way around, but there is a thin film of chivalry still left in the land. You can holler and throw bricks and scream down the house when it goes sour or when one catches 'tother on the cheat or whatever. But you just plumb can't coldly discredit an estab- lished fact that you once applaud- ed out loud.

That Licked Him

There was a countersuit going in the Rose-Holm ruckus, with both participants naming names and hurling dornicks. It died sud- denly in court the other day, with Billy backing down and accepting a separation, with the financial terms to be worked out later. Through all the viciousness of charge and countercharge, I was still not as shocked as by the fact that Billy Rose had attempted leg- ally to deny a marriage that had

Quit Old Trieste Fight, Says Tito

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Premier Marshal Tito says Italy and Yugoslavia should put aside their bitter dispute over Trieste until they can approach the ques- tion "with more sense."

"Let's co-operate on other ques-

been ostensibly happy for a doz- en years.

My female counsel is a pretty good shot-caller on these things. The day the papers came out with the story that the Little Dynamo was trying to prove that he had never been married to the dame whose initials are on the bath towels, Mama said quietly.

"She's got him. This licks him." And she was right. It's just a shame it had to be so messy on the road to resolution.

tions which are of extreme impor- tance such as assurance against aggression, economic exchanges and the preservation of the peace of the world," Tito said.

He spoke yesterday before an estimated crowd of 250,000 persons who had converged by truck and train on the little Slovene town of Dolenske Toplice to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the formation of a wartime partisan unit there.

The unyielding claims of both Italy and Yugoslavia to the free territory of Trieste, at the head of the Adriatic, have worried the Western Allies trying to promote co-operation between countries op- posed to Soviet aggression.

Tito suggested that, pending a later approach to the Trieste ques- tion, Italy and Yugoslavia set up a joint administration for the ter- ritory. The disputed buffer region between the two nations now is divided into two zones, one ad- ministered by Yugoslavia and the other by Britain and the United States with Italian assistance.

Marjorie McNeely Bride, Wedding At St. Ignace

A gown of Chantilly lace over satin was worn by Miss Marjorie Ann McNeely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. McNeely of St. Ignace, former residents of Powers, for her wedding to Robert William Davis, also of St. Ignace. The ceremony took place Saturday, Sept. 13, at 2 p. m., in the Church of the Good Shepherd at St. Ignace with Father Arthur P. Hayes reading the service.

The fitted bodice of the bridal gown had a Queen Anne collar which framed the face. The long, fitted sleeves formed a point over the hand. The very full skirt which was gathered all around the back formed a modified train which also was lace lined with taffeta. Imported French hand worked lace formed the bride's veil, which was attached to a small half hat of satin and lace with clusters of orange blossoms at each side. She carried a white lace fan with a floral arrangement of deep red roses.

This Idea Gets Kiddies to Drink More Milk...

By MARY MANNING

Here's a way to get your children to drink more milk. It's a way so simple you'll find it hard to believe—but it really works. Try it. Simply set cold FAIRMONT MILK on the table by the pitcherful.

There's something about having a pitcher of ice cold FAIRMONT MILK on the table that makes the children ask for "seconds."

And everyone—adults and teenagers, as well as the younger children—should drink several glasses of this nourishing food every day. Doctors tell us we never outgrow our need for milk.

Once you taste a glass of cold, fresh FAIRMONT MILK, I'm sure you'll say, "Here at last is milk that's really delicious and refreshing."

FAIRMONT MILK has a deep-down creamy goodness that pleases—satisfies—refreshes.

It's the "GROW" Food—it's the "GO" Food. Compare FAIRMONT with any other milk. See what folks mean when they say FAIRMONT is the best milk in town.

New Silhouette For Fall Revealed By Designers

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

You can be wide from side to side, but flat from stern to stern. That's the blueprint for this fall's fashion silhouette, as underscored by New York's custom designers, now unveiling their closely guarded creations, which ring the cash register for $500 up.

Mainbocher, the gray-haired, Chicago-born couturier who looks more like a stock broker than a fashion designer, shows his usual discreetly elegant collection, following his conviction that the truly elegant woman prefers understatement to display.

Simplicity Adorned

This point is illustrated by one of his most important fall costumes, modeled at his recent opening. The model first appeared in a simple little gray wool pea jacket and slim skirt. When she opened the jacket, an ermine lining was revealed. Under it was what appeared to be a discreet and unadorned tailored suit in gray worsted. But when that jacket, too, was removed, there was revealed a short dinner dress of the same gray wool, elaborately embroidered in jewels and sequins above the belt. That gives you a general idea.

Mainbocher holds that a lady prefers not to flaunt her opulence, but to keep it concealed until the strategic moment, when she emerges from her outer swathings as a moth from a cocoon.

This is the theory he has pursued successfully for many years in dressing such luminaries as the Duchess of Windsor, who never yet has been accused of overdressing. Says Mainbocher:

Expressed Casually

"This collection... is full of marked changes, but they are expressed casually, the way a chic American woman lives. I think effortless clothes are important when so much else is full of strain. To me, fashion is happiest when it flows forward smoothly rather than when it is whipped and bagged into spurts and jerks."

Another Mainbocher innovation of the season is the American favorite, the shirtwaist dress, done in chiffon lined in wool jersey. The effect is that of a new and wonderful material, with a faint look of iridescence.

Ghost Of Past Love Haunts
This Man As Wedding Nears

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.
Sometimes memories of an old love are happy. Sometimes they are bitter and sad. In either case, chances are they are troublemakers. This young woman had better do something drastic about the matter before considering marriage.

(Q) "I've been going steady with a fellow for almost two years. He says he loves me very much and wants to get married when I'm ready. Quite often when we go out together, he tells me about the girl he went with for four years. He tells me what wonderful times they had together and how nice her parents were. I get disgusted listening to him. Do you think I should tell him about it?"

(A) Telling him might cause a lot of trouble between you unless you're tactful. He might misinterpret what you say, and this could lead to a quarrel that would end your romance.

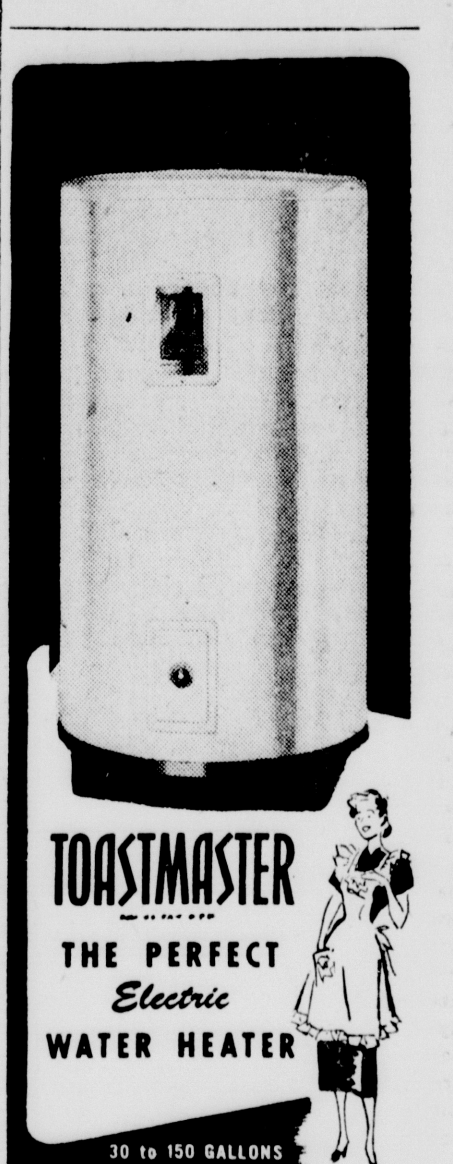

It is possible that this young man was sincerely fond of his former girl and her family. He unquestionably had good times with her, otherwise he wouldn't have continued to date her.

However, he didn't care enough for her to want to marry her. He turned his attentions from her to you. In you, he is finding what he wants in a wife and that is why he is ready to marry you whenever you say the word.

There is potential danger in these happy memories of his past romance. So long as he recalls them in such glowing colors, he will probably compare them with the present, perhaps to your disadvantage.

Ask him to introduce you to the girl he formerly went with, then try to meet her parents. Be sure he stays around to see them with you so he can make a comparison. If this comparison comes out in your favor, your chances for a happy marriage will be greatly increased. Otherwise, wait until you see how things work out before setting a date for your wedding. You must be sure that the happy memories are reduced to reality before you risk your future happiness.

Lecture Course Opens Thursday

A course of five lecture discussions entitled "How to Live With Your Children—And Like It!" will open Thursday evening at the Gladstone High school assembly room.

The course is being offered by the University of Michigan Extension Service and is being given with the cooperation of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, Northern Michigan College of Education and the public school system and Parent-Teachers association.

The lectures will be given in Gladstone on Thursdays, Sept. 18 and 25 and Oct. 9, 16 and 23. Similar courses are being given at St. Ignace, Sault Ste. Marie, Ishpeming and Munising.

Registration for the course is only one dollar and it is open to all who wish to enroll. Registration is for the course only. Single admissions are not accepted.

It is the aim of this non-credit lecture-discussion series to acquaint parents and teachers with some of the more recent thinking concerning child growth and development, in view of the complicated patterns of family living today. Such understanding will help them provide a more adequate environment in home, school and community. It is the hope that these lecture discussions will lead to continuing study and action in the field of mental health in these communities.

Odd Accident Injures Girl

Mary Ann Frantz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Frantz, Delta avenue, suffered a recurrence of a back injury Monday afternoon while in class at Gladstone high school. She was removed to the family home and plans were being made Monday to have her taken to St. Luke's Hospital at Marquette for examination by a specialist.

The injury occurred when the girl reached to open a drawer while seated in one of the class room chairs. Overbalancing caused the chair to tip some but it came back on all four legs when Mary Ann straightened up. The resultant jar aggravated an old injury causing a partial paralysis.

Neighbors Help Make Wisconsin Farm Pay For Disabled Veteran

WAUSAU, Wis. (AP)—A year ago scores of farmers and carpenters toiled over 200 acres of cutover land in Marathon County to renovate the farm of Frank Flees.

Today the grateful 29-year old ex-Marine, who came home invalided from Guam and ran into bad luck, is running a prospering layout.

Flees had had great difficulty winning a living for his wife and two children from the farm's tough unproductive top soil. And then bad luck struck him. A chain snapped while he was silo filling and destroyed one of his eyes.

Pine Trees Planted

Dr. P. J. Przedpelski, a county agent working with Polish settlers in several counties, began a campaign to aid the troubled ex-Marine. A modern farm was built in one day.

Businessmen wrote checks to help buy things the farm needed. One day farmers came with tractors and bulldozers to work the

Laboratory Accident Leads To Discovery Of Double-Duty Dye

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A laboratory "accident" has led to the development of new, double-duty dyes that make fabrics both water-repellent and colorful in one process, the American Chemical Society was told today.

Dr. Clyde C. DeWitt of Michigan State College said the accidental spilling of a chemical compound designed for quite another use had paved the way for making dyes that increase the water-repellency of wool by 60 times and of cotton by 12 times—without any change in the texture or composition of the materials.

New Cleaning Problem

He told the chemical society's 122nd national meeting that in methods commonly used today waterproofing is applied after the fabric is dyed, and that most have a shorter lasting waterproof effect than the new dyes.

DeWitt declared the dyes are not yet available for commercial use, but would probably have first application in awnings, tents and umbrellas. He said they should have application for treating clothing fabrics—with potentialities for increasing their durability—but he declared it may be necessary to modify the composition of present dry cleaning materials in order to clean fabrics colored by these dyes.

Explaining the "accidental" discovery, the chemical engineer told this story:

Five years ago, he and one of his graduate students were working on the refining of copper ore by a so-called "flotation" process in which particles of copper are caused to "float" on the top of a complex chemical mix.

Spilled On Floor

They devised a compound that would produce an oily film around the copper particles and at the same time color them so they could be seen readily.

Some of the special compound spilled on the laboratory floor. It was mopped up with a cloth, coloring it in spots. Later, when the same cloth was used to wipe up some water, it was found that the colored portions of the fabric resisted wetting.

DeWitt said the water-repellant qualities of the new compounds will remain in the material as long as the dye—an improvement, he said, over the most current waterproofing agents. He said the latter have to be re-applied each time the fabric is cleaned.

Job Outlook Rosy For Windup Of 1952

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever 1953 may bring, a swelling chorus of manufacturers sings of growing cheer between now and Christmas.

That makes the job outlook rosy. And it might even be good news for stockholders—who'll have to share their joy, however, with the tax collector.

Industrial production totals are snapping back fast from the summer slump caused by the steel strike, vacations and abominable weather.

Orders Pile Up

Steel output is almost back to pre-strike levels. Orders for raw steel will keep the mills busy well into next year. Demand for most finished steel products is expected to hold up until the end of the year at least.

The auto industry expects to have its biggest week of the year next week, when it plans to turn out 98,822 cars and 25,859 trucks.

Although the great post-Korean expansion of industrial plant and equipment is scheduled to slough off next year, builders report that contracts for heavy construction projects are still running ahead of a year ago.

And they look for public construction—schools, roads, hospitals and the like—to step up as the industrial expansion boom tapers off.

Bears Cautious

Many home builders concede that their construction boom—greatest in history—is past its prime. Home building this year probably will drop below 1,200,000, and the federal reserve will be required by law to drop its curbs on easy terms of home mortgages. Many expect the curbs to be dropped later this month.

But many home builders are still confident that for several years to come the demand for homes will keep building totals at better than 800,000 new homes a year.

Another barometer of manufacturing points to fair weather ahead. Paperboard production, after a slump this spring, is rising again and is now running about 10 per cent ahead of a year ago. That means that manufacturers are buying more packaging for the goods they will be shipping.

Everyone seems happy, except for some bears in Wall Street. They take the traditional stand: When the majority gets so optimistic that's the time to watch out.

Twilight Golf Play Nears End

The final round of play in the Men's Twilight golf league is scheduled for Wednesday. The Whites have things pretty well in hand and there appears little chance of the Blues overtaking them.

Crop Volume Sets Record While Some Areas Feel Drought

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is producing a record volume of crop and livestock products this year, but not all farmers are sharing in it.

In its September crop progress report, the Agriculture Department said livestock farmers in some sections of the South and Southwest face serious shortages of feed for their cattle and other livestock next winter because of drought damage.

Production Well Balanced

The volume of crops indicated on Sept. 1 was close to the second largest of record, produced in 1949, the department said. The production of livestock products—meat animals, dairy and poultry products and wool—will be the largest ever produced. As a result the combined production of crops and livestock products will set a new record.

A feature of this year's production is the fact that it is well balanced. That is, the prospective big production does not reflect record outturns of a few crops offset by small volumes of other crops. Only in the case of winter wheat and rice are production records indicated.

The severe drought which affected wide areas in the East and Southeast as well as the Southwest during July has raised concern among officials lest farmers be forced, by lack of feed, to sell off much of their livestock.

The new report said it had not turned out that way. Instead, livestock was said to have held up well, except in the very driest areas. Marketings have not been unusually heavy.

Potatoes Short of Goal

The vital hay crop was said to be turning out better than had been expected. The corn crop estimate was boosted 50 million bushels above the August estimate, putting it at 3,185,000,000 bushels or 8 per cent more than last year.

The wheat crop remained virtually unchanged at 1,298,000,000 bushels, the second largest of record and 311 million bushels more than last year.

The potato crop increased slightly to top last year's short crop by 12 million bushels but still leaving it short of the government's production goal of 350 million bushels.

Minors Hit By New Liquor Law

An amendment to the state liquor law making it a misdemeanor for persons under 21 years of age to purchase or knowingly possess or transport alcoholic beverages will go into effect Thursday, Sept. 18, it is announced by Howard A. Hewitt, sheriff of Schoolcraft County.

The attention of high school principals and teachers to the amendment is being called by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, the sheriff said.

The amendment makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $100 or imprisonment for 90 days in the county jail, or both, for any person under 21 years of age "who shall purchase or knowingly possess, transport or have under his control in any motor vehicle, any beer, wine, whiskey or other spirits, unless such minor person is working for a licensee and is possessing, transporting or having such alcoholic beverages in a motor vehicle under his control during his regular working hours and in the course of his employment."

This law has been interpreted to mean, Hewitt said, that the minor driver of any automobile can be arrested and charged with a violation of the state liquor law if any beer, wine, whiskey or other spirits are found in the automobile which he is driving, whether or not he purchased the same.

Even though it is not his car the driver will be subject to prosecution if any alcoholic beverages are found in the automobile, whether such beverages were purchased by him or brought into the motor vehicle by other persons. The mere presence of the alcoholic beverages in the automobile, with the knowledge of the driver, would be sufficient evidence for the conviction of the minor driving the car, the sheriff pointed out.

All enforcement agencies of the state have agreed to the rigid enforcement of the amendment and prosecutors of the state have agreed to rigorously prosecute any cases brought to their attention, Hewitt stated.

Violation of the probation will automatically result in an additional jail sentence of 60 days.

Magnuson was arrested in Germfask Sunday night by Fred Papple and Louis Losey, deputy sheriffs, on complaint of Sigmund Tabaka, of Hillman, Alpena County. Tabaka charged that he was the victim of an unprovoked attack by Magnuson in a Germfask tavern.

The two deputy sheriffs brought Magnuson to the Schoolcraft County jail at 9:15 p. m. Sunday.

Shirley Bancroft Bride Saturday Of George J. Guay

Pink and white gladiolus banked the altar at St. Francis de Sales Church Saturday when Miss Shirley Mae Bancroft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Bancroft, 315 Schoolcraft Ave., became the bride of M/Sgt. George J. Guay, of Fort Devons, Mass., son of Arthur Guay, of Farmington, N. H. Rev. F. M. Schermyer performed the 9 a. m. ceremony.

Music for the ceremony was provided by the junior choir and Gail LaBrasseur who sang "Ave Maria."

The bride was attired in a white slipper gown styled with lace mandarin collar and bodice. Her fingertip veil fell from a headpiece studded with pearls. She carried gardenias on a white satin covered prayer book and a crystal rosary, a gift of the groom.

Miss Jean Fortin was maid of honor. She wore a pink taffeta gown with white accessories and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses.

Robert Felix, of Oconto, Wis., served as best man and William Larson ushered.

Mrs. Bancroft attended her daughter's wedding in a violet crepe street length dress with black accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

A wedding breakfast and dinner for the immediate families and wedding party were held at Paul Bunyan's Cook Camp. The reception for 100 guests was held in the evening at the K. of C. Hall.

The couple left later by plane from Escanaba for Boston, Mass., and will reside at Fort Devons, Mass., where M/Sgt. Guay is stationed.

The bride is a graduate of Manistique high school and practical nurses school in Marquette. She had been employed at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital until her marriage. He recently returned from duty in Korea.

Out-of-town guests attending were Sgt. and Mrs. Thomas McCauley, of Sault Ste. Marie, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Felix, of Oconto, Wis.

Two Are Fined For Reckless Driving

Fines of $25 and costs of $4 were recently imposed in Manistique justice court on two men charged with reckless driving.

George Videtich, 19, paid a total of $29 when he pleaded guilty to the charge yesterday morning. He was ticketed by city police on Sept. 5.

Archie Mero, 67, paid an equal amount at his arraignment several days ago. He also was ticketed by city officers.

Principal Carl Olson Tells Rotarians About His Visit To Sweden

Economically and culturally Sweden is one of the world's most advanced nations, it was stated at a regular meeting of the Manistique Rotary Club yesterday by Carl Olson, Manistique high school principal, who spent three weeks in Sweden in August.

Industry is the nation's economic leader with agriculture in second place, Olson said. Mining, production of electric power and the merchant marine also are important factors in the country's economic activity.

One out of every three persons is employed in agriculture but 75 percent of the farms are less than 25 acres, the speaker said. All farms are farmer-owned, in accordance with Swedish law.

Fifty-six percent of Sweden's land is in forest, ranking the country second only to Russia in Europe, Olson stated. Forest products comprise about 50 percent of the nation's export trade, he said.

High in Iron Mining
Before the war Sweden ranked fourth in the world in the production of iron ore, being exceeded only by the United States, Russia and France, the high school principal continued. The ore is located in three great fields, one of them running as high as 75 percent iron.

The speaker discussed Sweden's government, stating that the nation is ruled by a parliament composed of a house of 150 members elected indirectly and a large house of 230 elected directly. A prime minister is the nation's chief administrative officer, and the king occupies a symbolic position much like the king of Great Britain.

Sweden, he said, is one of the few nations where the national wealth is fairly evenly distributed.

The country has the highest per capita radio ownership in the world, with 293 sets for every 1,000 persons. Telephone ownership runs one to every six persons, and every second person in the nation owns a bicycle, Olson declared.

By American standards the ownership of automobiles is low but Sweden still ranks first in Europe, he said.

Big Coffee Drinkers
Before rationing Sweden was the world's greatest coffee consuming nation per capita, with every person drinking on an average of seven cups daily, the speaker stated.

Culturally Sweden ranks at the front of western civilization, with art, music and literature topping the list, Olson said. Nearly every home has an original oil painting, there are many national festivals, and nearly every citizen is an avid newspaper reader. The country has 1,700 daily, weekly and monthly newspapers, and about three million books are sold annually, 70 percent of them being translations from English.

Olson, who spent most of his three weeks in the province of Blekinge and the cities of Stockholm and Gothenberg, also discussed the history of Sweden and told something about the country's geographical size.

He was introduced by A. F. Hall.

Two-Ball Mixed Foursome Stated Sunday At Course
A mixed two-ball foursome is scheduled for Sunday at the Indian Lake course, beginning about 2 in the afternoon, it is announced.

Women golfers will draw for partners preceding the matches. Arrangements for the lunch following golf also will be made by the women.

A quarter-mile section of Biscayne Boulevard, Miami, Fla., has been equipped with street lights mounted on poles able to withstand hurricane winds of 170-mile-an-hour force.

Christy's Team To Play Fords Tonight In Crucial Contest

Christy's Bar and the Fords will clash at 6 tonight at the Court House diamond for the city softball championship.

If Christy's win tonight's game they will be softball champs. If the Fords should win, however, another game between the two nines will be required to decide the issue.

Christy's team is undefeated in the double elimination tournament while the Fords have been beaten once. Sunday the Fords eked out a meager 14-13 win over Inland in a slugfest.

Big Pat Cvangros, Ironwood's 190-pound fullback, continued his devastating ground-gaining feats in that 0-0 tie game with Escanaba last Friday night. Cvangros rushed for 154 yards on the ground. Two weeks ago he piled up 195 yards rushing against Duluth Denfeld.

When Sault Ste. Marie lost its first football game Friday night to Ishpeming it was by the same margin which the Blue Devils beat Escanaba here in the Eskymo opener. Both teams scored a TD but Ishpeming's quarterback, Henry Vogeler, picked up a bad pass from center on the placement attempt and ran the extra point. Sault's Joe Lumsden, who ran the all-important point against the Eskymos, was stopped by Ishpeming on the one-yard line.

A former Upper Peninsula high school star is making a strong bid for a defensive post on the University of Wisconsin football team. The Badgers last year boasted one of the best college defenses in the nation. Keith Lundin, who played football and basketball a few years back for Coach Harry Monson at Iron River, drew a starting defensive backfield post when the Badgers held their full-scale scrimmage at Camp Randall Stadium Saturday.

Escanaba has had its share of champions this year, but we can't think of a more successful sports representative for this city than the Escanaba Bears. Composed entirely of home towners, the Bears were nearly unbeatable in Tri County League play. The team lost two games out of 20, winning the regular season title and the playoff championship as well. The team is composed mostly of young players just out of school. The boys haven't lost a Tri County game since early in June.

Coach Ken Radick of Menominee used 39 players Friday night as his Maroons rolled up a 51-0 gridiron victory over the Kingsford Flivvers. Eight different Maroons got into the scoring act, with the reserves counting 25 points in the final period alone.

Jim Sargent, right end, played a lot of football in the Sunday afternoon high school clash between Lourdes of Marinette and Powers-Spalding. In fact, Jim Sargent played right end for both teams. Jim Sargent of Marinette was the starting end for Lourdes while Jim Sargent of Powers was the starting end for the Tigers. The boys aren't related and it was the first time they had met.

Two All-State Grid Stars From Escanaba At College

Two of Escanaba's finest high school football stars, all-state high school selections in 1951, are entering college as freshmen this week.

Paul Gunderman, Escanaba Eskymo standout last season who was named Lineman of the Year by the Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association, left Saturday to enroll at Marquette University in Milwaukee.

Peter Kutches, all-time great at St. Joseph Parochial school, leaves tomorrow for Laramie, Wyo., to enter Wyoming University. Kutches was named all-state in both football and basketball last season but is expected to concentrate on the gridiron sport at Wyoming.

Sports observers say this is the first time in Escanaba's athletic history that boys from both Esby High and St. Joe landed all-state football berths.

Gunderman climaxed his high school grid career at Escanaba last season as an offensive end and defensive safety man. The tall grid star, who also held down a regular berth on the Eskymo cage squad, played a bruising defensive game and was one of the most capable pass receivers in the Upper Peninsula.

Kutches, as a Trojan halfback, was sensational on offense and outstanding on defense. In seven games the "Trojan Horse" ran up 1,274 yards from scrimmage. He handled most of the kickoff and punt returns and was on the receiving end of a number of passes. He threw 74 passes and completed 45 for 730 yards. He gained a total of 2,004 yards on the ground and in the air, ran for nine touchdowns and passed for seven.

Both Escanaba athletes were sought by a large number of colleges following their high school careers. Kutches also excelled in basketball and baseball and Gunderman was a varsity diamond star for Escanaba.

Braves Resume Grid Drills, Will Meet Emeralds Saturday

GLADSTONE — Coach Don Plotenauer's Gladstone Braves resumed football practice yesterday afternoon in preparation for the home stand against Manistique Saturday afternoon.

Football practice and gym classes were halted a week ago because of the heavy incidence of polio in the community. The Board of Education, on the advice of physicians, approved resumption of grid practice. The polio peak has apparently passed and it was decided that athletic activities could safely be resumed.

Gladstone opened its 1952 season with an impressive 31-0 victory over St. Joseph of Escanaba. Last Saturday the Braves were scheduled to travel to Munising, but the game was cancelled because of the heavy polio attacks.

Good Start

The Braves will drill steadily this week in preparation for the Manistique Emeralds. The Emeralds, under new coach Dick Bonifas, have got off to a flying start with two wins in three games to date.

Manistique dropped its opener to Ishpeming, 13-6, then came back to trip Stephenson 19-13, and Negaunee 25-0.

Last year Gladstone handed Manistique a 19-0 defeat and Manistique will be geared for revenge.

There has been no announcement regarding a replay of the cancelled game with Munising. Even without the Mustangs, Gladstone has a seven-game season schedule. The Braves face Manistique, Marquette, Newberry, Ishpeming, Stephenson and Escanaba in that order.

A heavy slate of games is on tap for U. P. high schools this weekend.

Feature Clash

Stambaugh and Iron Mountain collide in a feature Menominee Range Conference clash that will pare the undefeated list by one. Stambaugh has three straight wins while the Mountaineers have won both their starts.

Ontonagon, also with three U.

P. victories, goes for No. 4 against Houghton. Newberry, with its victory streak of 22 games ended by Marquette, faces Sault Ste. Marie in a home stand Saturday.

Bark River resumes action after its game with Rock was cancelled by polio last week. The Broncos will be seeking their second win against the St. Joe Trojans at Memorial Field Saturday night. Game time is 8 o'clock.

The Escanaba Eskymos are idle over the weekend. Norway, usually the third foe on the Escanaba schedule, dropped the Eskymos last season and school officials have been unable to replace the game. Escanaba returns to action Sept. 27 at Menominee.

Iron River, with a three-game win streak this season, is also idle over the weekend.

Leading Drivers Enter Stock Car Races Here

Top drivers and cars from Northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan lead the list of early entries in the U. P. championship stock car races to be held here Friday afternoon as a feature of the Logging Congress.

The races, second appearance of stocks at the State Fair half-mile dirt track this season, will begin with time trials at 1:30. The first of three heats will begin at 2:30. There will be a consolation race, semifinal and feature in addition to the heat races.

A fast field of 40 cars is anticipated. Officials of the U. P. Association have made provisions to wet the race track thoroughly to eliminate the dust which marred the first running of the stocks here during the U. P. State Fair, a spokesman said today.

Among the first of the entries is Joe Longtime of Ishpeming. Longtime was the heavy money winner in the State Fair program, copping first in the feature after placing in the money in the heats.

Wild Bill Holmes, top driver on the Menominee track, will be driving car No. 98 and the leading money winner at DePere, Wis., Don Renier, will be in car No. 57.

The Ness racing team, leaders in the Green Bay district, will be here with Gale and Bob Ness driving cars No. 69 and 70. Other top drivers already entered include Jim Richer of Kingsford in No. 32, Leon Fraker of Iron Mountain in car No. 116, Walter Jusilla of Ishpeming in car No. W-1, John Stoltz of Stephenson in 222 and Carl Jensen of Wallace in car No. 75.

Jensen is a former midget and big car race driver and is expected to come up with a strong entry. The stock car races held here in August set a new record for attendance and purse in the Upper Peninsula. Some 7,500 spectators jammed the State Fair grandstand to take in the program.

Dartball Association Will Meet Wednesday

A reorganizational meeting of the Escanaba Dartball Association has been called for Wednesday at 8 p. m. at Carpenter's Hall, by George LaCrosse, president.

Association officers, managers and players are invited to attend. Plans for the coming season will be made. Officers and members of the board of trustees are asked to be at the hall at 7.

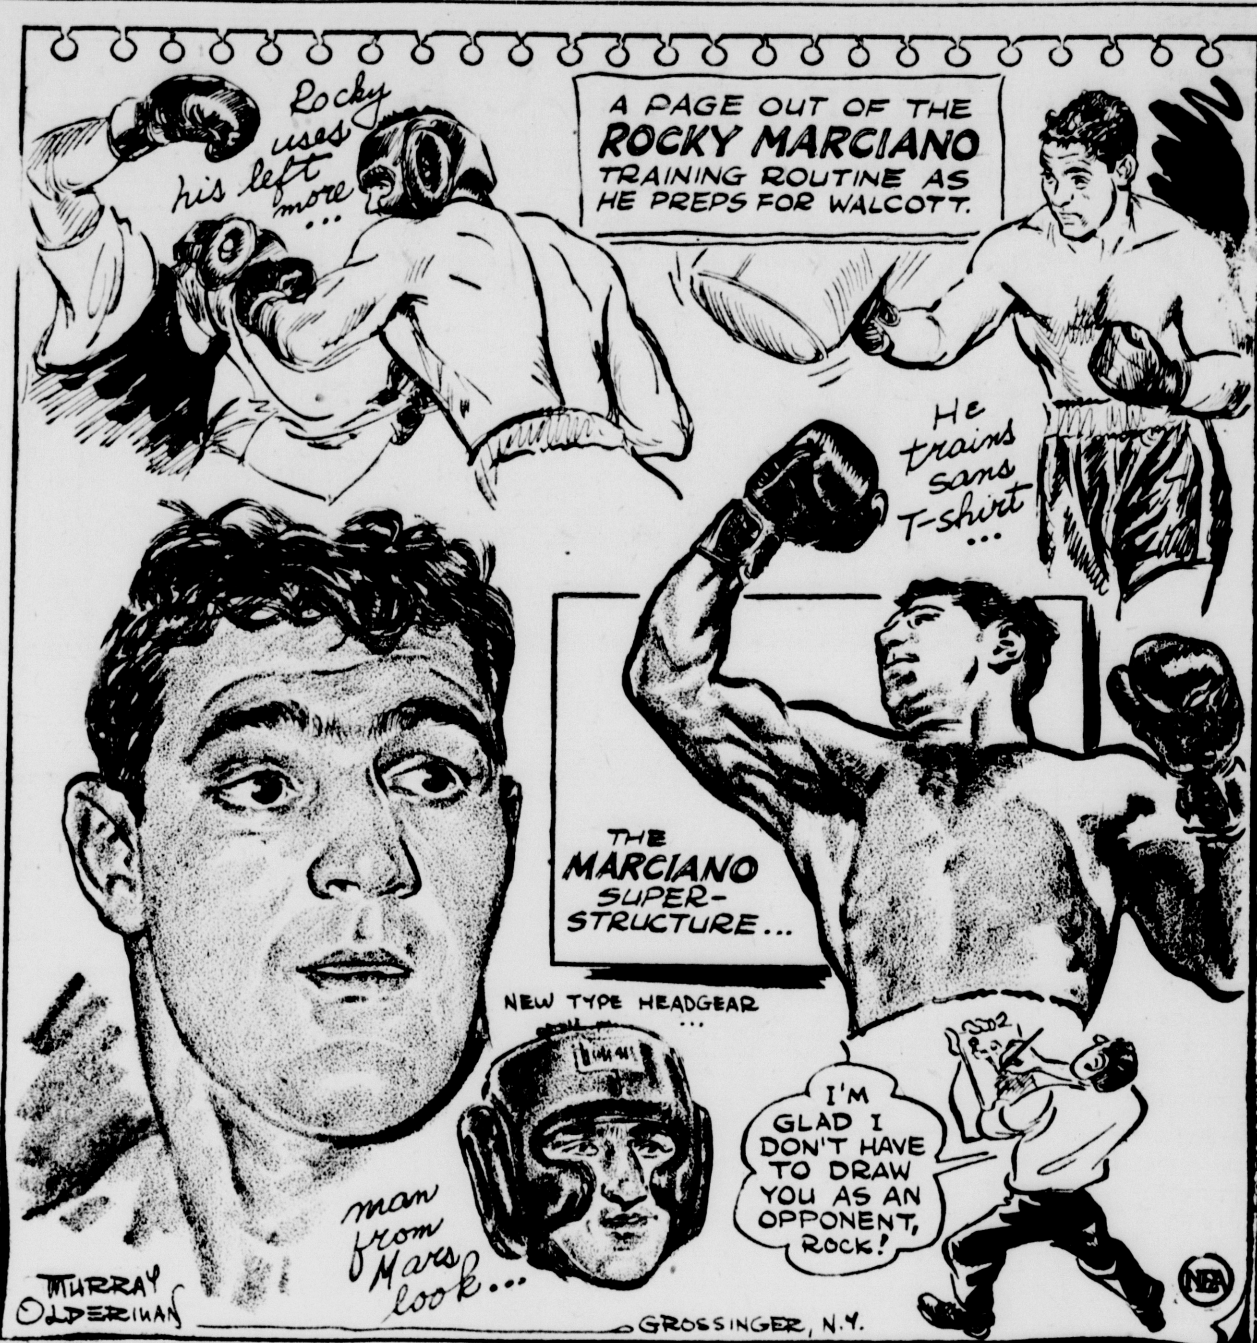

Other dartball officers are Ethel Johnson, vice president; William Fisher, treasurer; and Stella Hubert, secretary. Members of the board are A. A. Doucette, chairman, Mary Jane Mileske, Marjorie Willette and Bernard Schultz.

Sellout For Michigan State-Michigan Game

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The Michigan-Michigan State football game here Sept. 27 is a sellout.

Athletic Director Fritz Crisler announced yesterday that the last of the 97,239 seats had been sold. It is the fourth year in a row in which the game has been a sellout or a near sellout.

After Canada, Australia has the greatest length of railway per head of any country, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Sparring Mate Earns Money As Rocky Trains For Bout

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

NEA Staff Correspondent

GROSSINGER, N. Y.—(NEA)—"That Marciano, he's one sweet guy," puffed a ringsider, through cigar smoke.

Inside the ropes it sure didn't look like it. The squat Italian from Brockton, Mass., was belaboring a veteran sparring mate, Keene Simmons.

Simmons earns his 20 bucks daily. A couple of months ago he was waiting around lightly in training with Harry Matthews, the same who was quickly clobbered by Marciano.

"I knew what to expect when I came up here," smiled Simmons, grimly, after the workout.

Rocky Marciano, nee Rocco Francis Marchegiano, has doe-like brown eyes and a quizzical forehead. A docile smile softens his rough-hewn face. But he's tough and purposeful, willed with the confidence of having waded through 41 straight professional fights.

"In the ring I know what I want to do, and how to do it," he said, stretching out on an iron-post bed in the Catskills farm house that constitutes his training headquarters here.

Might Jersey Joe Walcott make him look bad by the same bobbing and holding tactics that turned the Savold bout into a fiasco?

"He's the champ," said Rocky, with a trace of awe, "and the champ always makes a good fight."

Rocky grabbed a cup of tea and sipped strongly. Puckish Charley Goldman, his 64-year-old trainer, grabbed one, too, and chuckled, "So this is what makes you strong. Maybe it'll help me."

He cleared the floor for an imitation of the Walcott two-step jig, in slow motion. If he gets an opponent off balance with it, Walcott will sometimes lead with a right.

"Only a sucker gets hit by a right," said Goldman.

"Let's hope there are plenty of suckers in this world," grinned Rocky.

"The Garden is littered with 'em," added a newspaperman.

"Hey, Rock, how'd you like some braccioli' right now?" interrupted a visitor.

Marciano winced at the mention of the Italian steak delicacy. "That's the only thing me and Charley don't get along on," he said, with feigned seriousness. "My appetite. He keeps a lock on the refrigerator. I like steaks, chops, roasts, anything—when he ain't looking."

Around to take care of his little bambino is also Papa Marchegiano (Mark-a-john-o), a wiry 125-pounder who was with the Marines in World War I at Chateau Thierry. Rocky's wife is in Brockton awaiting the arrival of the first heir. Boyhood pal Al-Columbo, also one of the Rock's handlers, came in for a rubdown. We made ready to depart for Atlantic City and Joe Walcott's camp.

"Scare him for me, willya!" chided Rocky.

Pass Attack May Be Lacking At Michigan

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The forward pass which helped Michigan to gridiron greatness in 1947-48-49 is not the sharp Wolverine weapon it was.

Under the successive regimes of Bob Chappuis and Chuck Ortmann, the pass was a deadly weapon that constantly threatened touchdowns.

Now, for the first time in several years, the Wolverine running game will have to carry most of the load.

All Fair Passers

All members of Michigan's starting backfield—Quarterback Ted Topor, Fullback Fred Baer and Halfbacks Frank Howell and Ted Kress—can pass fairly well.

Michigan boasts some good receivers in Lowell Perry, Thad Stanford, Merritt Green, Jim Bates and others.

But the big factor—the unerring accuracy of former Wolverine throwers—is missing. Hopes that the fires of combat will turn Kress into a top-notch passer have been expressed but until that time, Michigan's chief reliance will be on its runners.

In this phase of the game Michigan is better equipped with all starting backfield men better than average.

But it is an axiom in football that a good pass loosens up the defense and makes it just a bit easier to run. Michigan runners may have to work the hard way.

In the meantime, Coach Bennie Oosterbaan dishes out heavy passing drills in hopes of developing his passers. Not only the starting quartette but every back in the Michigan camp that shows any inclination is getting a chance to throw.

A scrimmage was Oosterbaan's first order of the day yesterday. Topor, No. 1 quarterback, stole the show, passing three perfect, long passes for touchdowns and hitting on two short ones that would have gone for scores.

Defensive work also got a going over, with the varsity showing well against reserves.

End Howell Perry was favoring an ankle hurt in a Saturday scrimmage. It wasn't considered a serious injury.

Back To Basic For Spartan Grid Team

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State's football squad went back to basic training yesterday as coaches tried to eliminate some of the flaws discovered in Saturday's game-length scrimmage.

The fundamentals of timing and blocking were stressed in the light drill. There was no contact work since many of the players were still nursing bruised muscles after the head-bumping session of the weekend.

Hard work was still the order of the day as cooler weather made the workout a little more bearable. Squad members repeatedly sprinted the length of the field in a period aimed at developing endurance and a quick getaway.

Part of the practice was devoted to a long punt drill, with Quarterback Tom Yewcic, Halfback Gene Lekena and Guard Gordon Serr doing the kicking.

Still on the hospital list were Bob Edmiston, 250-pound defensive tackle from Hatboro, Pa., and Doug Bobo, end from Reed City. Bobo is bothered by a pulled back muscle and Edmiston has a head injury.

After two days of letting the squad take it relatively easy, Coach Biggie Munn planned another scrimmage for today.

Answer: This was an interference play left to the umpire's judgment. The base umpire should not have called it because he is not in position to see it. Everything depends on whether the runner was in fair territory or on the line or to the right of it. If one foot was to the left of the foul line, he was out. There should be a three-foot lane in foul territory the last 45 feet, but outside of the major leagues fields frequently are not properly marked. The batter definitely belongs to the chief umpire until he is half way to first base. In this play, the plate umpire had nothing to say unless the base umpire appealed, so he did not do the right thing by calling the runner out after the base umpire called him safe. In regard to the protested game being continued or played anew that's up to the president of the league.

Say Dodgers Can't Forget Last Year

Experts Figure Yankees In

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Can you figure this? The Yankees lead Cleveland by 2½ games while Brooklyn leads the Giants by three. The Yankees must play eight of their remaining 11 games on the road while the Dodgers have eight of their 11 at home.

Yet the experts—those who know baseball best—figure the Yankees a cinch to win the American League pennant and declare the National League race a toss-up between the Brooks and Giants.

Why?

"The Yankees have the confidence of champions," a veteran baseball man said. "They win the

Brooklyn Outfielder Gets Warning Letter

NEW YORK (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation and Brooklyn police are investigating a threatening letter received by George Shuba, Brooklyn Dodgers outfielder, warning him not to set foot in Ebbets Field again this season.

The typewritten letter was postmarked yesterday, from Elmont, Long Island, N. Y., and was delivered to Shuba at the Brooklyn ball park.

It was the second such letter received within a week by a Dodger player. Relief pitcher Joe Black got one last week.

Shuba said he was about to tear it up as a joke, but showed it to Irving Rudd of the Dodgers front office. Rudd turned it over to the FBI.

Ted Schroeder Tests Aussie Mervyn Rose

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ted Schroeder, a former champion, and Australia's Mervyn Rose, second seeded foreign entry, clash in the center court today in a highlight of the Pacific Southwest Tennis Championships.

Schroeder, who has been playing a strong game after a considerable layoff, will have to be at his best to eliminate the powerful countryman of top-seeded Frank Sedgman and enter the quarter-finals.

Sedgman dropped a set in gaining the quarter-final round yesterday. Lean Harry Likas of San Francisco took the second set but dropped the match—6-2, 1-6, 6-1.

big ones. They don't scare easily. They have the solid men in Allie Reynolds, Vic Raschi, Ed Lopat, Yogi Berra and Phil Rizzuto.

Lack Confidence

"The Indians may be a better all-round club. But they lack the confidence of champions."

And the Dodgers?

"If it were any team but the Dodgers," the learned baseball man replied. "I'd say I don't know how they could lose with a three-game edge."

"But the trouble with the Dodgers is they cannot forget last year. Especially when this race is following last year's script almost to the letter. Every time the Giants win and they lose, the Dodgers are reminded of last year's debacle. They know it can happen because it already has happened."

"The Dodgers are in trouble even with their big lead. Their pitching staff is in a bad way. If the Giants had the services of Larry Jansen to go along with Sal Maglie and Jim Hearn, they'd be sure to pull off another miracle. As it is, it's going to be another squeaker right down to the finish."

Managers Silent

Neither manager—Leo Durocher of the Giants nor Charlie Dressen of the Dodgers—is doing any talking these days. Not even after yesterday's victories that left them still three games apart with 11 to go.

Brooklyn received another shoddy pitching performance—this time from Carl Erskine—but their big bats atoned for the pitcher's lapse. The Brooks pounded out an 11-5 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds, Jackie Robinson and Duke Snider hammered two homers apiece.

Sal Maglie looked like the Maglie of old as he pitched the Giants to a six-hit, 12-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. A nine-run sixth inning—the biggest single inning of the season for the Giants—made it easy for the 35-year-old righthander.

Chisox Win

The Indians and Yankees were idle yesterday. They renew warfare today with the world champions facing the Tigers in Detroit and the Indians taking on the Washington Senators in Cleveland.

The Dodgers play host to Pittsburgh in a night game and the Giants took on the Chicago Cubs in the Polo Grounds.

In yesterday's remaining two games—both in the American League—the Chicago White Sox downed the Boston Red Sox, 4-2, and the Detroit Tigers scored a 5-4 victory over the Washington Senators.

Kuenn Sparks Tigers To Win Over Senators

By HARRY STAPLER

DETROIT (AP)—What if the Tigers did the unexpected—whipped the leading New York Yankees in their two games here today and tomorrow? Well, obviously, it could tighten up the American League pennant race. In addition, it would:

1. Give the Tigers, officially the worst team in Detroit history, 11-to-11 record against the Yankees.
2. Extend a Tiger winning streak to three games. Detroit beat Washington 5-4 yesterday to halt a losing streak.

3. Amaze a few thousand skeptical fans.

Manager Fred Hutchinson, anxious to amaze fans and tighten pennant races with his last-place team, will use his best two right-handers—Art Houtteman today and Virgil (Double No-Hit) Trucks tomorrow.

The Yankees are supposed to be more vulnerable to righthanders than lefthanders.

The Yankees plan to pitch Joe Miller (3-5) against Houtteman (8-18).

The Cleveland Indians, meanwhile, 2½ games behind New York, meet the Washington Senators.

Dick Marlowe was touched for three runs in the eighth and New-houser was called in. He retired the last four batters in the game.

It was a big victory for New-houser—his 199th. He'll get at least one starting chance or several relief chances at No. 200 in the remaining 11 games on the Detroit schedule.

CHICAGO (AP)—Roughneck Rocky Graziano and undefeated Chuck Davey, the mercury-footed Michigan State graduate, are cast in boxing's beauty-and-the-beast episode tomorrow night.

The scheduled 10-round scrap in Chicago Stadium will be televised and broadcast nationally.

Odds favoring the sledge-fisted, mauling Graziano, who rose from New York's slums to gain and lose the middleweight crown in three brutal battles with Tony Zale, have shrunk from 12-5 a week ago to 9-5.

Some ring critics think Rocky has been washed up since those punishing brawls with the former Gary "Man of Steel." But they still respect his toughness and slugging ability. They think Rocky can knock out Davey if he can hit him.

"These little guys are all alike—they run but they can't hide," said Graziano. "I think Joe Louis first said that—but he was sure right."

Davey, one of the finest south-paws in years, realizes he must depend on his speed and cleverness to the limit.

"I don't think Rocky will be able to hit me with any of his wild, roundhouse swings," he said. "I'm in the best shape of my whole life and could go 20 rounds. Rocky will be swinging at the air all night."

Davey, 26, is unbeaten in 36 pro fights and never has been knocked off his feet. Weighing 149, he will sacrifice about 13 pounds at ring time to his 30-year-old opponent. Graziano figures to weigh in at noon Wednesday at an official 158 then take enough nourishment to get to 162 by night.

Two Teams Unbeaten In Baseball Tourney

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Only two unbeaten teams—Dixfield, Me., and San German, Cuba—remained today in the eastern division of the American Baseball Congress amateur world series.

Dixfield handed Pruden, Tenn., its first loss, 8-6, in the two defeats—and-out tournament yesterday, while the Cubans were the first to whip Battle Creek's host club, 4-1.

Kalamazoo, Mich., the eastern division and world champion, came through with an 11-6 victory to eliminate Huntington, W. Va. The Michiganders have lost one.

Besides Huntington, Springfield, Ill., Knoxville, Tenn., and West Haven, Conn., were eliminated in yesterday's third round.

Taft-Hartley Act Denounced By AFL At 71st Convention

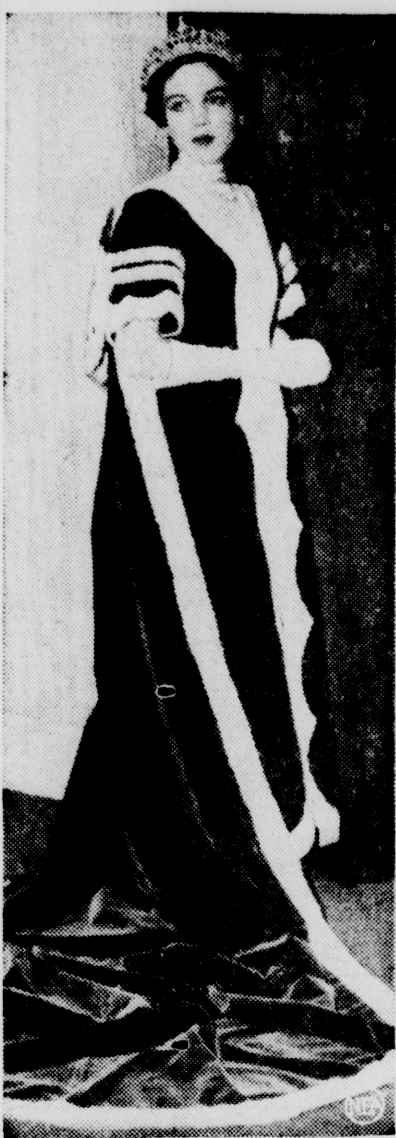

NEW YORK — Delegates to the 71st annual AFL Convention gathered today to hear an opening-day address by President William Green, who has indicated the group will endorse Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson for president. Decision on a presidential choice is expected to be made a week from tomorrow after the convention has heard addresses by Stevenson and his Republican opponent, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. The general will talk Wednesday, and Stevenson next Monday. The 752 convention delegates represent some eight million AFL members. The AFL's Executive Council filed a report last night in which it denounced the Taft-Hartley Act as a "dismal failure" and called the wage-price control program unfair to labor. Green made it clear at a pre-convention news conference that if the delegates decide on a presidential choice it will be largely — if not entirely — based on the candidates' views and their party platforms regarding the Taft-Hartley Act.

RESEMBLANCE
The name "passion-flower" arose from the supposed resemblance of the corona to the crown of thorns, and of the other parts of the flower to the nails, or wounds, while the five sepals and five petals were taken to symbolize the ten Apostles (Peter, who denied, and Judas, who betrayed, being left out of the reckoning), according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Prison Rioter Orates In Court

JACKSON (AP) — Prison riot leader Earl Ward made a resounding plea for "justice" today when he and his one-time partner in revolt were brought to court to face kidnap charges.

The 27-year-old Ward, whose speeches on the same subject made headlines during the four-day mutiny at Southern Michigan Prison last April, held the floor for five minutes this morning before Municipal Judge M. Grove Hatch.

He and "Crazy" Jack Hyatt, 29, appeared before the judge for examination on charges of kidnaping prison guards during the revolt. Ward and Hyatt were considered the top leaders of the uprising.

With his legs in chains but his hands free, Ward read a rolling

HEELS

A venerable old clergyman once remarked that he had more heels than souls in his congregation. Be that as it may, we know there have been many heels in your kitchen because they left their marks on the linoleum floor. They are tough to remove but can be prevented. Apply a coat of tough plastic type Glaxo linoleum coating that produces a bright hi-lustre finish that heels will not mar. Give this soil sealed surface an occasional swish with a damp cloth for easy cleaning. If Junior converts your kitchen into a skating rink — "See, Mom, no heels marks." Glaxo is available at The Fair Store Basement.

QUEENLY RAIMENT — Margaret du Cane models a dress designed for Queen Juliana of The Netherlands. Called "Coronation Robe," it was designed by Herbert Sison, Dutch designer in London, and was one of some 45 dresses flown to Holland for a special showing for the Queen. The showing was presented to aid Juliana in her choice of attire for the forthcoming Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II.
